Bandits Fleece Bus Riders

DETROIT (AP) — As two robbers pulled off the richest haul in the history of the Greyhound bus company Sunday, 42 victims on board sat terrorized, their eyes closed and hands atop their heads. They knew exactly what they were going to do, said Donald Paul, 27, one of the passengers on the bus. The robbery netted at least $15,000 in cash and jewelry while the bus traveled between Ypsilanti and Detroit.

The FBI is investigating the incident, the second Greyhound bus holdup in Michigan in eight days. "One went into the bathroom and the other put a gun to the driver's head," Paul recalled. The bus driver, 61-year-old William Gorshe, told passengers over the public address system: "Please cooperate so no one gets hurt."

The two men boarded in Chicago. The bus was an express from Chicago to Detroit and had Toronto as its final destination. When the bus neared Ypsilanti Sunday, passengers said the two men jumped up and began the robbery. Children aboard the bus screamed at the men and his accomplice shouted instructions from the front to the back of the bus, cursing some men, pistol whipping others and calmly stuffing money and jewelry into an attache case.

Detroit police believe the same pair of bandits pulled a similar holdup on a Detroit-to-Paducah, Ky., bus Aug. 24. That robbery netted $831 in cash and valuables. One of the men in Sunday's stickup told passengers: "We have guns. Put your heads down and do not look up. This is a holdup. If I see the whites of your eyes, I'll blow your heads off." A Greyhound official said it was only the third or fourth bus robbery he could remember.

The FBI would not comment on the case, but said they had jurisdiction because of a federal law forbidding interference with interstate commerce. One off-duty Detroit police officer on the bus decided not to interfere, afraid that innocent passengers would get hit in the crossfire. The unidentified officer lost $800, his gun and badge during the heist.

One bandit took a young mother into the bathroom to undress and search her for money. Her three-year-old child stood outside crying, "Mommy, Mommy," while she screamed, "I've got to get my baby." She was released when the man found no money on her.

A middle-aged woman on the bus was shocked when they searched her, but, despite their thoroughness, she succeeded in hiding $100, a watch, a necklace and an emerald ring "in my bosom." "It was very nerve-racking," she said. "I remained pretty calm, but I felt the impact when I got home."

Victims described the men as "businesslike" as they took the money and jewelry. "They weren't too rough, except they said if we held out on them, they'd blow our brains out," one woman recounted.

In Detroit, the men told the driver to turn off the Interstate 94 freeway onto another freeway. Soon after, the pair stopped the bus and ran up an embankment, jumped a fence and walked out of sight. Police believe the men escaped in a getaway car, waiting nearby. "I never heard of anything like this," said passenger Hubert Wackerman, 29, a German art student. "I heard about hijacking airplanes here, but I thought it was safe to go by bus."

Israeli Parties Will Give Sinai Pact First Test

JERUSALEM (AP) — The new Israeli-Egyptian agreement for a second Israeli withdrawal in the Sinai Desert went before Israel's political parties today for its test.

The Knesset, Israel's parliament, was expected to take up the agreement Wednesday after the parties determined their positions. Statements from political leaders before conclusion of the negotiations indicated it would be approved by a narrow majority.

Meanwhile, the Ford administration opened a campaign to win approval of the agreement by the U.S. Congress. This is needed because the pact provides for the stationing of some 200 American civilians at electronic surveillance stations between the two armies.

President Ford said if the agreement collapsed because Congress refused to authorize the American presence, the result would be "tumult, increased tension and obviously a greater chance for war."

Although Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and some other influential members oppose the American involvement, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has said he expects congressional approval.

Israel and Egypt initiated the new agreement in Jerusalem and Alexandria Monday after a 12-day diplomatic shuttle by Kissinger. If the Knesset approves it, representatives of the two governments are expected to sign it a day or two later in their capitals.

In addition to the Israeli troop withdrawal and return of the Abu Rudeis oilfields to Egypt, the pact commits the two long-time enemies to refrain from the "threat or use of force" against each other. Kissinger said he hoped "the implementation of this agreement and the documents that we have initiated today will be remembered as that point where peace at last began in the Middle East."

Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin admitted that there were risks for Israel in the accord. But he said these had to be taken to move toward peace, and the agreement could "open

Area Has 2 Of State's 21 Holiday Auto Deaths

A Watervliet boy killed Sunday evening and a Berrien Springs man who died early Saturday morning were among 21 people who died in Labor Day holiday traffic mishaps across the state.

Alvin Bernard Becker, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Becker, County Line road, rural Watervliet, was killed about 6:30 p.m. Sunday when he ran into the path of an auto near his home, according to Watervliet police.

Larry Alvin Manry, 24, Berrien Springs, was killed early Saturday morning when his car ran into a stone pillar at end of Kephart lane just east of Berrien Springs in Oronoko township.

The death of the Becker boy brings to 35 the number of traffic deaths in Berrien county this year.

Alvin was with a group of four other youngsters, including two sisters who witnessed his death, when the accident occurred on a County Line road bridge over I-94, according to Watervliet police.

Police said the driver of the car, Mrs. Margie Florence Heyman, 30, also of County Line road, has not been charged but an investigation is continuing.

Watervliet Police Officer Fred Ruess said Alvin was among five youngsters crossing the bridge just before the accident occurred.

Alvin, and Joey Sutters, 13, rural Watervliet, ran from the east side of the bridge to the west side, and in so doing, crossed into the path of the oncoming car being driven by Mrs. Heyman, police said.

Western Michigan Flood Damage Over $1 Million

By PIET BENNETT
Associated Press Writer

WHITE CLOUD, Mich. (AP) — Rain-choked rivers continued to rise today as authorities kept battling weekend storms that forced hundreds to flee their homes and caused more than $1 million damage in part of western Michigan.

Points of greatest peril today were along the Muskegon River in Newaygo County as ponds behind two huge Consumers Power Co. storage dams kept having to spill their excess water.

Sheriff's deputies in White Cloud said the river rose at least six inches overnight and was still rising today as discharges continued at the dams upstream.

The dams themselves were reported out of danger but their discharges forced evacuation of some areas downstream.

Dick Black, Newaygo County's civil defense director, estimated damage from the weekend rains and flooding would top $1 million. Sheriff Warren Stanton in adjoining Oceana County said damage there will exceed $200,000.

Black said 111 homes along the river, particularly in the Old Woman's Bend area south of Newaygo, were ordered evacuated. There was no firm count on the number of persons who fled those homes since many are summer cottages that may have been vacant.

Water was two feet deep inside some of the homes, Black reported after touring the area. He said he found some massive road washouts, including one 300-foot section gone from Newcosta Avenue on the border between Newaygo and Mecosta counties.

Black said Newaygo County officials are trying to decide if they should ask that their county be declared a disaster area in order to obtain state and federal aid.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Weather Service in Grand Rapids, about 70 miles southwest of White Cloud, said weekend rains totaled 7.6 inches. In adjoining Ottawa County, the total rainfall was 9.8 inches.

On the state's eastern side, the Tittabawassee River overflowed its banks today and blocked several roads in Midland. Some families abandoned their homes as the river rose more than two feet above the flood stage.

Floods Monday burst one of two concrete dams along Minnie Creek in Newaygo County.

U.S. Road Death Toll Below Expectations

By Associated Press

The highway traffic death toll for the Labor Day weekend was 35, well below estimates of the National Safety Council. The Safety Council had estimated that between 500 and 600 persons would lose their lives during the 70-hour holiday counting period that began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Monday.

U. Of M. Researchers Redraw The Drug Picture

Popular notions about the extent of drug use in this country seem to be out of phase with the facts.

For the past eight years, a team of researchers with the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research has been following a sample group of 1,600 males and recording their drug experiences and attitudes. The study's findings have consistently run counter to popular beliefs, says its director Lloyd Johnston.

"The findings we reported in 1970 did not reinforce public opinion," he says. "Drug use turned out to be far less prevalent among young people than was commonly believed."

Before graduating from high school in 1969, less than a quarter of this age group had used any illicit drug, and about half of those using drugs had merely experimented once or twice, usually with marijuana.

Now the common belief seems to be that the problem of young people using illicit drugs has declined considerably. The data, however, "indicate that substantial proportions and absolute numbers of young people are involved with drugs to some degree."

For example, in the year prior to July 1974, more than half of all 23-year-old males (based on the study group) smoked some marijuana, over one-third made some use of amphetamines without a prescription and the proportions for barbiturates, cocaine and psychedelics were all greater than one-tenth.

The number who had tried these drugs at some time during their lives was even higher: 62 per cent for marijuana, 32 per cent for amphetamines, 19 per cent for barbiturates, 22 per cent for psychedelics and over 6 per cent for heroin.

On the positive side, observes Johnston, much of the illicit drug use involves marijuana, the harmful effects of which have yet to be convincingly proven. About half of those youths using each of the other illicit drugs during 1974 did so only once or twice. Regular drug use rates seem to have peaked some time ago for this particular age group.

The investigators asked their 23-year-old respondents whether they would either begin using marijuana or use it more often if it were legalized. Only 15 per cent indicated they would, while another 11 per cent were uncertain. The amount of experience the individual had with marijuana seemed to have practically no effect upon his attitude.

Ironically, the older age groups may be most affected by any changes in the marijuana laws, thinks Johnston, since most young people already seem to have made their choice. "Almost universally, they have had exposure and access to the drug, while most older people have not."

Ability Secondary In Most Scholarships

College scholarships — the shining light toward which many high school students direct their scholastic efforts — frequently no longer are awarded on the basis of merit. With some exceptions, including private scholarship funds and sports endowments, the majority of scholarships today are awarded not on the relative educational achievements of the applicants, but on the relative inadequacy of their bank accounts.

As much as one-half of the funds available each year to American students for scholarships are administered by colleges, corporations and foundations which use services such as a division of the college Entrance Examination Board to act as a clearing house for scholarship information. All applicants for scholarships administered by these colleges complete a financial questionnaire which leaves nothing unknown about the family finances.

What about the student who conscientiously kept his grades in the A category all through his secondary education? He stands no better chance than the C student — less chance if his parent should be more solvent than others. The only educational consideration in many cases is that the applicant be capable of performing college level studies.

Wouldn't it be better for future generations if thrift and potential accomplishment were given at least equal footing with an empty pocketbook? Demands of the present as well as the future require greater concentration on quality instead of mere quantity.

Relatively, New York's Not All That Expensive

If you've been postponing that trip to "Fun City" because New York's such an expensive city, don't. New York isn't all that bad any more. Comparatively speaking, at least, many big cities are higher priced for tourists.

Comparisons help bring home the fact that inflation has caused widespread changes in living standards not only here at home but throughout much of the world. A survey of 49 of the world's largest cities by Business International S.A., a private research organization located in Geneva, found 14 of the cities now had higher living costs than New York.

The most expensive city included in the poll was Stockholm, Sweden, where living costs were 25 per cent higher than New York's. Next came three Japanese cities — Tokyo, Osaka and Kobe. Following these were Geneva, Oslo, Zurich, Copenhagen, Dusseldorf, Frankfurt, Amsterdam, Vienna, The Hague and Paris.

Within the last year the last four cities surpassed New York's living costs, a reflection of the battering inflation has been giving metropolitan areas in many western countries. No other major American city has been able to surpass New York's taste for expensive living.

That is one record New Yorkers are not sorry to see broken, internationally, and residents of other cities ranking higher on the list not happy at achieving.

One More For The Pile!

Businessman Says St. Joseph Needs The I-94 Penetrator

Editor,

"I oppose" the I-94 penetrator into St. Joseph. Just as all of the rest of the opponents to the penetrator indicated, there are already seven exits and entrances into the St. Joseph and Benton Harbor area. Therefore, why do we need another penetrator? In addition, the Napier Avenue Exit off I-94 will soon be four lanes and when combined with the M-139 Exit and five lanes, this should become the new business loop for Benton Harbor - St. Joseph. In other words, anyone traveling through this area from (i.e. east (Detroit or Holland) and wanting to shop in St. Joseph or Benton Harbor will simply get off on I-94 and Napier and make the business loop down to M-139 and re-enter at the M-139/I-94 entrance. Conversely, a person coming from the west (Chicago) and wishing to shop in St. Joseph or Benton Harbor will get off on M-139 and make the loop around the Fairplain Plaza and back out to I-94 on the newly constructed four lane Napier Avenue.

they will do it on Napier Avenue and M-139 and will completely bypass the St. Joseph and Benton Harbor downtown areas. This should make all of the proponents of the new City of Fairplain exceedingly happy, as they will then gain all of the outside business that now comes into the downtown St. Joseph (and formerly Benton Harbor) area. This should also make all of the opponents to the penetrator very happy, as St. Joseph will become a nice little town with nobody coming into it, or out of it. Of course, once this business drops, all of the downtown St. Joseph merchants will do just as the downtown Benton Harbor merchants did, and that is move out to M-139 and Napier Avenue. Why were those moves made? Those moves were made because there was no parking and the traffic was unbearable. People would no longer go downtown to shop because they would always get involved in traffic jams. Yes... we do have a beautiful bedroom community in St. Joseph and the St. Joseph side of St. Joseph Township. But, beware St. Joseph, your industry is downtown and your businesses are downtown and this is a case where they are the people that support the fair city of St. Joseph. They are the people that keep our taxes lower than they should be.

This then should solve everyone's problems in downtown St. Joseph and Benton Harbor. Any and all, outside business traveling through and around the Twin Cities will naturally travel I-94 and I-196. If they do have any shopping to do,

Announcement of a federal allocation of $40,274 for improvements at Ross field, Benton Harbor, was made today by Michigan senators Pat McNamara and Philip Hart. Edward Welsch, Twin Cities airport manager, said the grant appears sufficient to meet requirements for runway lighting and a land purchase for clear zone extension.

Fair Plain school's new addition is practically completed and will be ready for occupancy on opening day, Sept. 11, Principal Max Petzke announced today. The sixth, seventh and eighth grades will be housed in the new quarters, which, in addition to four classrooms includes a new oil heating plant, clinic space, and a small office, Petzke said. A.L. Longacre & Sons are the contractors in charge of general construction.

Tall, short, and medium men, bulky papas, willowy sheiks and would be Lochnivars of the more skinny variety in bathing suits paraded the Silver Beach pavilion dance floor in St. Joseph last evening displaying their manly charms before between 4,000 and 5,000 spectators. The occasion was the first men's bathing beauty contest ever staged in the twin cities, according to Manager Walter Stephany. Winners were Clarence Klapp, best looking face and figure; Rudolph Wichner, handsomest man; Charles Pegden, best and most original costume; and Erwin Gersonde, best figure. Thomas Karier was voted the homeliest. Of medium height and very lean he created no little fun as he paraded about the floor in a black suit with long tight legs, and an apron effect about the waist. He wore a white bathing cap.

young people's society of the 80s picnic held at Eau Claire Friday. Among the speakers were Rev. Henry Burton of Benton Harbor, Mr. Hipp of Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. Reese of Bangor. Mr. Hipp gave a history of the Eau Claire boys of 1858. Reuben Reese of Eau Claire recited an original poem in which he had interwoven all the names of the old boys. The past was so vividly pictured in the verse that tears were brought to many eyes as forgotten days were recalled. Mr. Hipp, father of O.B. Hipp of Benton Harbor, was present. He is the only member of the school board in Eau Claire in the 80s. F.E. Shoudy, the original school master, was present. O.B. Hipp won the prize for making the best hop, skip and a jump.

A Summer Day In The Park

WASHINGTON

The gentleman had a military step, toes inward, knees stiff, 30 inches to the pace. He strutted thus across Pennsylvania Avenue and into Lafayette Park where he engaged in a ritual of sitting down off with the coat, up with the sleeves, untie the shoelaces. "Grand," he said, which is a word almost no one says anymore, and he repeated it. "Grand."

It was midday. Sunny and hot. Just opposite the White House. Children were soaking in an open fountain. Kids were frolicking under the shade trees, and the gentleman unfolded a wrapped sandwich to eat. One bite. Two. Peanut butter and jelly from the look of it. "Do you know," the gentleman said, stopping mid phrase to swallow, and then to reach for a Thermos, "do you know about the hooping crane?" He smiled. Another bite.

A neighbor on the bench turned. "Yes," the gentleman said, politely, "the whooping crane." He placed his sandwich on its paper. "I am an authority on it." He licked jelly from his thumb. In turn he used a handkerchief to wipe the lick. He also blew his nose.

Tourists passed by their cameras aimed at the White House, a grass stain souvenir occupied the rear of one woman's stretch shorts. Yuck, yuck, he said. Click, click. The gentleman was not distracted. "The bird is white," he went on, "always white with black tips on the wings and a rose head. And they don't whoop; that is what people think, but it's wrong. They trumpet, very loud, like this: oooooompp!" The tourists turned to stare at the gentleman. He continued to trumpet. For effect, he put his hands to his mouth and oooooomped in the direction of the White House gate.

The gentleman lifted off the bench with his cane. Then sat down quickly. "I'm sorry," he said. "I've made a fool of myself." He finished his sandwich, except for the crusts, which he broke into pieces and tossed on the grass for the squirrels. He touched the neighbor on the arm.

"The whooper is a buzzard you know, by relation at least. And most ungracious, too. He will nest only if another whooper is not nesting nearby. They mate, but they do not flock. Nobody knows why. My opinion is they don't like each other that well." The gentleman screwed the cap on his Thermos.

The noon hour was ending. Brown bags were closing all over the capital. The gentleman stood to tie his shoes and button his sleeves. "What a show they are," he said, "hooping, catching the air. You know they migrate each spring from Canada to Texas, and go back again in the fall. It is a wonderful thing to see them in flight." The gentleman put on his coat, a lightweight suit jacket, and touched his fingers to an old-fashioned tie. "Of course," he said, laughing a little, "I've never seen them in flight."

The gentleman searched the bench then his pockets. "I've lost my wrapper," he said. He felt under the bench. "It must have blown away." He rubbed his face with his hand and brushed the crumbs from his trousers. Then he saw the wrapper in the fountain. "Mustn't litter," he said, delightedly, as he went to the water's edge, slid over the concrete lip, and waded in to retrieve the trash.

When he came out he shook himself, turned, and pausing only to ask a child if she knew of the whooping crane, the gentleman left the park and walked back across Pennsylvania Avenue with a slow, dignified military step.

A U.S. Coalition Government?

Coalition government is a familiar enough thing in Europe. When several parties divide the legislature, it is normal for two or more of them to make a deal and run things.

In the United States until recently, the two major parties were strong enough to win and govern in their own right. Political issues tended to be fought out inside the major parties as declining in appeal and undergoing fragmentation. The consequence, however, remains to be drawn: that there will be a strong tendency toward some form of coalition government in the United States, necessarily a peculiarly American form.

Thus, let us suppose for the sake of argument that President Gerald Ford survives the Ronald Reagan challenge and manages to capture the Republican nomination. Under the impact of the Reagan challenge, Ford moves measurably to the right, and earns the Reagan endorsement. At that point, the biggest threat to Ford's election will be the George Wallace third-party movement. There exist a number of scenarios for dealing with that threat, and each of them involves a kind of coalition, tacit or open.

Consider the following likely sequence of events, and the possibilities that emerge from it.

George Wallace shows up at the Democratic Convention with a sizable bloc of delegates and makes his point through a fight on principle. He tries to connect the national Democratic Party to an anti-busing Constitutional amendment. Pandemonium breaks loose, the delegates are at one another's throats, and the move for an anti-busing amendment loses 2-1. The victorious liberal faction has The Battle Hymn of the Republic played on the Marching Organ. Wallace declares that he cannot live in the Busing Party, and he and most of the Southern delegates plus chamber continue.

gents from elsewhere walk out. At that point, the political ball is in the Republicans' court.

Scenario One. It is conceivable that instead of running on the third-party ticket Wallace could be lured by specific agreements to become a Republican. It is more likely that a deal could be struck according to which Wallace, without becoming a Republican, would endorse Ford and withdraw as a candidate.

Scenario Two. The above deal is not struck and Wallace enters a three-way race. In the November election — an entirely plausible outcome — no candidate has a majority of the Electoral College. This will provide an interesting crunch. Ford at that point has the option of letting the House of Representatives decide the winner — which would mean picking his bags.

But approximately 30 days will elapse between the November election and the time when the Electoral College actually votes. During that time it would be perfectly possible for the deal to be struck. In return for specific commitments, Wallace would release his electors to Ford. This, again, would be a kind of coalition government.

Schools Praise Paper's Current Events Program

A majority of area schools using a newspaper-school current events program responded favorably to the use of the program in their schools, according to a recent survey. The course is sponsored by The Herald-Palladium and priced by Visual Education Consultants, Inc., (VEC) of Madison, Wis.

Filmstrips and discussion guides on current events are provided to area schools every week. Another feature of the program is the weekly News Quiz in which newspaper readers can test their knowledge of current events in a weekly test appearing in Herald-Palladium each week. The survey of area schools, conducted by VEC, showed that 83 of the 89 area schools using the service responded favorably to the program. Only six schools requested suspension of the service.

Teachers using the program had favorable comments for the current events course. "The students really enjoy and look forward to working with the newspaper," a teacher from the Eau Claire Middle school said. "They are so much more aware of current events which concern their everyday lives." "My students look forward to the weekly filmstrips," a teacher from Benton Harbor Sterne Brunson elementary said. "To further encourage their reading of the newspaper we also have Friday for News reports."

St. Basil's school, South Haven: "This is a terrific. Teaching via the newspaper is 'in' at St. Basil's. Please continue!" Lakeshore junior high school: "Great — something in it for everyone."

New Buffalo high school: "Excellent coverage of news highlights. Your filmstrip adds a whole new dimension to our current events in the classroom."

Lake Michigan Catholic middle school: "We consider the use of VEC a privilege. It is used weekly. This material was also used in a three-week 'Newspaper-Unit.' The program is also offering a special Bicentennial feature each to test knowledge of America's history."

1970 Lakeshore Grad Murdered In Florida

By RALPH LUTZ
Staff Writer

Thomas DeMeester, a 1970 Lakeshore high school graduate, was slain last Wednesday night during an apparent burglary at Altamonte Springs, Fla., a suburb of Orlando.

Cap. David Gunter of the Altamonte Springs police department told this newspaper it's believed more than one person was involved in the death, but there are no suspects or positive leads at this time. Two detectives are assigned to the case, Gunter said.

DeMeester was severely beaten and his hands were tied, but death was ruled as suffocation, Gunter said. Gunter said DeMeester was found in his apartment at 1:45 p.m. Thursday. He was dressed and his hands were tied. Gunter said it appears that while tied and bent over, DeMeester vomited and suffocated. He was dead when found. Death occurred shortly after 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, Gunter said.

According to Gunter, it's not known if DeMeester was intercepted after work on a street, inside the apartment building, or if he opened the door for someone. There was no sign of forced entry to the living unit, Gunter said.

DeMeester's auto was reported taken, along with his wallet and watch, Gunter reported.

DeMeester's father, S. John DeMeester, now of Kalamazoo, said his son was a native of Grand Rapids and funeral services were to be held today at Myers funeral home, Grand Rapids. Burial was to be in Rosedale Memorial Gardens, Grand Rapids.

DeMeester, who was 23, recently moved to Florida to work for a year before completing his final year at Western Michigan university, his father said.

The father, a Michigan Bell Telephone Co. employee, resided in the Twin Cities area for 18 years before being transferred by Bell to Kalamazoo in 1970.

The elder DeMeester said his son was majoring both in teaching and marketing and wanted to work a year to determine which area he wanted to enter before completing school. DeMeester said his son was employed in Florida by Jones-

Following graduation from Lakeshore high school, DeMeester attended Lake Michigan college for one year and then entered WMU, where he had been a student for 2½ years, the father said.

It was second attempt for James who skimmed water for 125

CUSTOMERS VOTE HER BEST

Mother Of Five Is Top Gas Jockey

By STEVE SAGER
Staff Writer

Money changer jingling at her side, Mrs. LaVerne Metz, 33, scurries to greet another customer.

Whether it's another command to "fill 'er up" or just to clean off a grimy windshield, Mrs. Metz attacks her job with hustle.

Such hustle combined with a charming smile and a courteous attitude earned Mrs. Metz an extra $100 for her work as a service station attendant at the Clark Super 100 service station, 2008 Washington street, St. Joseph.

For her work Mrs. Metz was voted the best service station attendant in her district for the month of July. The votes were cast by her customers.

The contest includes only Clark and Owens service stations. Her district, from Muskegon to Benton Harbor, includes 46 other service stations.

There were three contests — one for June, July and August. The attendant who receives the most votes for that month wins. The votes were sent to Clark's main office in Milwaukee where they were tabulated.

Mrs. Metz said, "Most of the votes came from credit card customers who are sent a ballot with each bill." She added, "Paying customers can pick up a ballot at the station or send in a letter."

Mrs. Metz said she didn't ask for any votes. She said there were advertisements at the station notifying customers that the contest was going on.

Mrs. Metz has been working at the St. Joseph Clark station for over two years. Her husband, Herb, runs the station.

What will she do with the $100?

"I plan to buy school clothes for the kids," she said. She and her husband have five children between the ages of 8-15. They reside at 1020 Church street, St. Joseph.

Traffic Stop Leads To Arrests

State police from the Benton Harbor post arrested three men after confiscating four handguns and a shotgun from a pickup truck, stopped for a traffic offense Sunday evening on I-84 in Benton township.

Sgt. Jerry Hyland said the three were booked on charges of carrying concealed weapons and a computer check indicates that one of them is free on $20,000 bond in connection with a reported murder last March 21 at Ft. Atkinson, Wis.

Hyland said Wisconsin authorities were being contacted to determine the status of the bond.

Arrested were the driver, David Keith Stone, 25, Rockford, Ill., being investigated in connection with the bond; and passengers Larry Charles Heumiller, 28, Beloit, Wis., and Keith Marshall Bruco, 29, Hammond, Ind.

Berrien sheriff's deputies early Sunday arrested two men after guns were found in their auto during the investigation of a property damage traffic accident on Pokagon road near Daniel Boone road, Berrien township.

Booked on charges of carrying concealed weapons were Morris Lytes, 28, US-31, Berrien Springs, and Elijah Ryals, 27, Ocala, Fla., both described as farm workers.

Rewrap Meat Before Freezing

Fresh beef that is pre-packaged for self-service should not be stored in the refrigerator in the original wrapping for more than two days.

You may freeze it without rewrapping and store it in the freezer for one to two weeks, if necessary, though, if you can't use it within the two days.

For longer freezer storage though, rewrap the meat in special freezer paper. Properly wrapped meat cuts will maintain their quality for 8 to 12 months.

Those beautiful Bartlett pears now appearing on markets from both western states and Michigan may need some further ripening before turning that beautiful yellow color that indicates peak of ripeness.

Pears are one of the few fruits that must be picked green from the trees so that they may ripen properly. They ripen best off the tree.

So if the pears you buy are still a bit green, simply put them into a brown paper bag and let them ripen for one to two days at room temperature.

Properly packaged and kept in a dry, cool place, it has a shelf life of about six months.

If soft drinks account for a considerable part of the "hidden" sugar consumed in your home, consider replacing soft drinks with more nutritious drinks.

MR. AND MRS. CARL RUDLAFF — 1975

MR. AND MRS. CARL RUDLAFF — 1925

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rudlaff, 606 Rosehill road, Berrien Springs, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house Sunday, Sept. 7, from 2 to 6 p.m. at The Grove, Berrien Springs.

Friends and relatives are invited.

Hosting the event will be their children, Mrs. Arthur (Mathilda) Sonnenberg of Sawyer, Mrs. Larry (Clara) Hamilton of St. Joseph and Mrs. Bernie (Ruth) Ellis and Walter, Fred, Herman, Arthur, Ernest, Herbert, John and Robert Rudlaff of Berrien Springs.

On Sept. 5, 1925, Rudlaff and the former Augusta Hebler were married in the Berrien Springs Lutheran church by the Rev. Louis H. Koehler.

They are members of the Berrien Springs Lutheran church and have lived and farmed for 43 years at their present home.

They have 32 grandchildren and three great-granddaughters.

pointments was made today by Charlie K. Field, LMC dean of community services and continuing education, who indicated that the new directors would bring with them a number of innovative ideas and new concepts toward making the Women's Center of continuing service to the women in the entire community surrounding the college and expanding the Center's scope and activities.

The co-directors will replace Betty Manning, former head of the Women's Center and responsible for bringing the Center up to its present high level. Mrs. Manning resigned last spring to accompany her husband to his new place of employment in Michigan.

Both of the new directors earned master's degrees in counseling from Western Michigan university and have had considerable experience in leading and participating in Transactional Analysis, Gestalt and Neo-Reichian groups.

Mrs. Burdick has had eight years teaching experience in Ypsilanti, Lakeshore and Benton Harbor public schools. She is certified as a school counselor for grades K through 12.

Following her teaching career, she trained to become a Transactional Analysis therapist. Later she taught Transactional Analysis for such groups as the National Secretaries Association and the Traverse City Vocational Rehabilitation Association. She also has served as a facilitator for various women's awareness groups at LMC.

Mrs. Fischman previously worked in Grand Rapids as a facilitator for the women's awareness program of the YWCA. She completed her internship in 1974 at Riverwood Community Mental Health Clinic, St. Joseph, and that year began teaching awareness courses for LMC's Women's Center.

Last January, Mrs. Fischman and Mrs. Burdick created Counseling Associates, a private counseling service in St. Joseph.

The LMC Women's Center has been designed for women of all ages and from all walks of life. Essentially, it strives to assist women to know more about themselves in today's world, to obtain additional educational enrichment, to increase their skills and effectiveness and to help them plan ahead for future involvement in careers, homes and communities.

The Center, a part of LMC's division of community services and continuing education, offers personal counseling, symposia, film festivals, lectures, short courses and seminars for women.

"Directing the Women's Center for the coming year is exciting for us personally as we both have been involved with Women's Center programming as facilitators and volunteers in the past," says Mrs. Burdick.

"Basically we plan to continue with programs that have been successful, such as the women's awareness series, career workshop and self-therapy class. However, we hope to expand these classes and to train facilitators with different kinds of background and experience so that the courses will be relevant to all women — and men — in the community.

"One of our goals is to have the Women's Center become as effective for the student, the senior citizen or the black woman as it has been for white middle class women. We are hopeful that women who have served the Women's Center in the past will continue to work with us," Mrs. Burdick said.

According to Mrs. Fischman, "We also plan to delegate more Women's Center activities to women in their own special areas of interest so that no talent is wasted. We plan to implement a speakers' pool so that community organizations will have the opportunity of keeping abreast of our programs and activities, and also so that the Women's Center becomes a more known part of the community. Broadening the scope of Women's Center classes to include men is another area of possible growth."

"We would both like to emphasize that the Women's Center will definitely remain separate from Counseling Associates. It is important to both of us that the Women's Center is recognized as an entity unto itself. When we served as facilitators for the Women's Center, we maintained the distinction, and we also recognize the difference in services performed by each operation. We believe in the Women's Center of LMC and are committed to its continuation and growth," Mrs. Fischman said.

Mrs. Fischman received her bachelor of arts degree from WMU and Mrs. Burdick received her bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan.

VA Hospital Report To Be Bared Today

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Officials at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Ann Arbor were expected to release an accreditation report on the facility today.

The hospital is under investigation by the VA and FBI because at least 51 cases respiratory arrests, including 18 deaths, have occurred there since July 1.

The accreditation report was researched last November by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, a non-profit Chicago agency that rates safety, cleanliness and care in many of the nation's hospitals. The panel visited the Ann Arbor VA hospital a two-year accreditation.

A hospital source said the document includes about 20 recommendations for hospital improvements, none of which deal with the hospital pharmacy or drug dispensing methods.

The source said the completed accreditation report was received by the hospital in February. Hospital aides were reluctant last week to release the report, but later agreed to make it public today.

Doctors at the hospital say they believe someone at the facility is purposely injecting patients with the drug Pavulon. The brand-name drug, also known as pancuronium chloride, paralyzes voluntary muscles. Patients who receive it stop breathing within five minutes and suffocate unless they are assisted by a respirator.

A profile of the suspected killer, compiled for the FBI by University of Michigan psychiatrist Dr. Derek Miller, suggests the person may be a hospital employee with a history of mental illness and petty crime, sources report.

Jay Bailey, assistant special agent in charge of the Detroit FBI, said extensive interviews and laboratory tests have uncovered no solid evidence of foul play.

Federal agents reportedly have interviewed more than half of the hospital's 700 full and part-time employees during the probe. Blood and urine samples of some arrest victims have been sent to government labs in Washington, D.C., and Denver, Colo., sources said. Other tests are being conducted at the University of Michigan.

Bailey said some preliminary findings have been received but declined to comment on the results.

The accreditation report was to be discussed by the hospital's Clinical Executive Board, which was to consider whether to relax a partial ban on admitting non-emergency patients.

Since the FBI probe began, only psychiatric and emergency admissions have been permitted.

The patient population over the holiday weekend was 188, compared to an average patient count of about 300 before the investigation and admissions restrictions began.

NEW YORK (AP) — A scripture-quoting rabbi and police spent four hours atop the 110-story World Trade Center dissuading a man from his threat to plunge from the city's tallest skyscraper.

The would-be jumper, James Speller, 33, of Newark, N.J., knocked down a guard Monday afternoon and then, armed with a razor blade, climbed out on a south tower ledge, police said. They said that he had been treated in the past for mental illness.

Church Robber Sought

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit police are looking for three men who robbed a church safe, bound the parish priest, then beat him and stole his car Sunday. Officials said the Rev. Edmund Muir, 51, was at the Epiphany Church rectory at about 8:45 p.m. when two men grabbed him as a third man stood lookout. Father Muir told police the men forced him to open the safe, which contained about $500 in cash and checks. He said they ripped his watch off, tied his hands and feet, then struck him on the face and head before fleeing. Another priest found and released Father Muir about 10 minutes later. He was reported in satisfactory condition at a Detroit hospital.

'Polluting' Fine Paid By Chrysler

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Chrysler has paid a fine for "high polluting" cars in California but says the Air Resources Board has taken its test results "and blown them way out of proportion."

A Chrysler spokesman in Detroit said Monday a $328,200 check was delivered "under protest" and the firm will challenge the ARB in court.

The ARB chairman, Tom Quinn, said Monday the fine was for the sale of 6,564 cars — all 1975 models — with engines of 230 cubic-inch displacement which failed to pass California's emission control tests, the strictest in the nation. The statutory fine is $50 per car.

He said Chrysler was told it couldn't sell any of its 1975 cars until the fine was paid. But with the fine paid, he said 1975 models may be sold.

Chrysler said, "The accusation that our engines are high polluters is a vast exaggeration."

The truth is that they are the cleanest engines ever built by Chrysler for California. It should be remembered that this ARB furor involves a small number of engines in the total 1975 vehicle population in California. And for all practical purposes, these engines would have no measurable effect on air quality.

Chrysler added that of all Chrysler engines tested, less than 200 have failed to meet the standards.

The company said it paid the fine only after the ARB agreed beforehand not to endorse the check but to set it aside in a joint escrow account until the legal issues are settled in court.

Quinn, appointed by Democratic Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., said it was the largest fine ever levied for an anti-smog violation. The board said the 1975 cars with the 440 CID engine were Chrysler Imperials, New Yorkers and Newports, Dodge Monacos and Royal Monacos, and Plymouth Gran Fury's and Gran Fury Broughams.

The Chrysler spokesman asked if the 1975 models would meet California's standards, answered, "Of course."

Chrysler said it paid the fine under protest "after the ARB made it clear that it would carry out its threat not to approve Chrysler's 1975 models for sale in California, even though they successfully passed all emission tests."

When levying the fine two weeks ago, the ARB said more than 25 per cent of the 1975 cars with the 440 CID engine failed assemblyline emission tests conducted under state supervision.

Also at that time, the ARB ordered Chrysler to stop selling an estimated 1,000 of the 1975 model cars powered by the 440 CID engine still in dealer showrooms.

But almost immediately after that, the ARB reported Chrysler agreed to attempt to repair the cars, and the ARB said all which passed the tests could be sold. The ARB said the testing program could cost Chrysler $500,000.

Said Quinn Monday: "The law requires us to block sales of new cars if a company refuses to pay fines levied by the Air Resources Board."

Chrysler has fully cooperated with us during the past two weeks, and I sense a new commitment on the company's part to build clean cars.

I am hopeful that Chrysler's 1975 models will meet the anti-smog standards, and we will be working closely with the company to avoid a recurrence of the problems encountered this year," Quinn added.

The ARB said earlier the fine was prompted by "continuing and massive violations of California's anti-smog laws." It said Chrysler had made a completely inadequate response "to two recall campaigns earlier this year."

Quinn said, "We intend to do everything possible to diminish smog in California and it is imperative that our automobile laws be strictly enforced."

RODRIGUEZ RETURNS: President Guillermo Rodriguez Lara waves as he returns to the presidential palace in Quito, Ecuador, Monday after failure of a revolt staged by the army chief of staff. Rodriguez left capital when fighting began but returned at the head of an armored column in late afternoon. (AP Wirephoto)

Ecuador General Gives Up After Failing To Get Aid

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — Ecuador was reported calm again today following the failure of an attempt by the army chief of staff to overthrow President Guillermo Rodriguez Lara.

The leader of the attempted coup Monday, Gen. Raul Gonzalez Alvarez, surrendered after 12 hours when the army, navy and air force failed to join the single army unit supporting him.

Gen. Rodriguez, who overthrew an elected president in 1972, said "the most rigorous weight of the law" would fall on Gen. Gonzalez and all those who supported him.

The president accused "irresponsible politicians" of instigating the rebellion. A dusk-to-dawn curfew was imposed in Quito and Guayaquil, the country's two chief cities, leading civilian opponents of the regime went into hiding, and government forces raided their homes.

About 80 troops and officers were reported under arrest. It was not known if any civilians also had been arrested.

Unofficial reports said 20 people were killed and about 50 wounded in the fighting around the presidential palace in downtown Quito.

Gen. Gonzalez laid siege to the palace shortly after midnight Sunday with tanks and about 100 troops of the Azuay armored regiment.

The rebels issued a communique accusing the government of political and economic mismanagement, particularly of the country's oil wealth. They organized to abolish a recent 60 per cent surtax on imports, carry out a reform program and hold elections in two years.

After several hours of shooting, the rebel tanks entered the palace grounds, and the presidential guard surrendered. A crowd of civilians followed the rebels into the palace, looting and destroying part of the block-square building.

Meanwhile, Rodriguez escaped from the palace to Rio Barnba, 100 miles to the south, took command of the armored garrison there and started back to Quito with it. Army and navy units in Guayaquil, Ecuador's chief port on the Pacific coast, proclaimed their loyalty to the president.

'PEACEFUL' STATE SCHOOL OPENING PREDICTED

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
The two major Michigan teacher organizations are predicting about 12 teacher strikes as schools around the state prepare to resume classes this week.
If that prediction bears out, one of the most peaceful school openings in a decade will take place this fall.
Although few walkouts are anticipated, nearly half of the state's public school systems ended the Labor Day weekend still trying to resolve new contracts.
Most systems scheduled teachers to report for work today and students to return Wednesday.
Most of the teacher organizations still negotiating were to meet sometime Tuesday to decide whether or not to work while talks continued.
In Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties, 23 of the 88 school districts were without teacher contracts, but few walkouts were expected.
School-watchers are predicting the toughest negotiations to be in the Crestwood District of Dearborn Heights.
Crestwood teachers were on strike for 42 days during the past school year, and the Board of Education fired 184 teachers and opened schools with a replacement staff.

A Wayne County Circuit Court decision overturned the firings in January, and the original teachers completed the school year.
But the Michigan Supreme Court upheld the right of the school board to fire the striking teachers. The Crestwood board decided last week to begin hiring a new teaching staff to use when classes open Thursday.
In Detroit, the state's largest school system, a tentative two-year contract was reached last week.
The city's 10,500 teachers were to meet today to vote on procedural matters that would let classes begin as scheduled Wednesday, while teachers schedule a contract ratification vote later in the week.

HE'S HOOKED: Michigan Humane Society says this seagull, found Sunday with three fishhooks embedded in its beak and wing, should be airborne again soon. Disabled bird was found by a Detroit apartment dweller and humane society member John Clements came to the rescue, cutting away the debilitating hooks. Attached to the hook in the bird's beak is a metal lure. (AP Wirephoto)

Youth Home Mass Escape Sparks Meeting In Wayne

DETROIT (AP) — Security problems that led to the escape of 16 juveniles Sunday was to be the topic of a special meeting today of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners and the Youth Home staff.
Seven of the escaped youths — including one charged with murder and another charged with bank robbery — are still at large.
A commissioners' committee recommended last week that the county spend $31,000 to continue a study of security and detention procedures at the home. Spending for the study last year totaled $41,000.

Freight Train Kills Woman Trestle Walker

TIMES BEACH, Mo. (AP) — It was a holiday outing. On the spur of the moment the four decided to walk the railroad trestle over the Meramec River. A freight train suddenly rounded the bend and bore down on them. They dashed for safety.
Priscilla McGowan, 31, Creve Coeur, Mo., a teacher, was killed. She was struck head-on by the locomotive as she tried to run to the end of the trestle.

State Sheriff Stanton said the water was more than one foot below the dam's retaining wall and still dropping this morning.

Meanwhile, the 278 residents of Hesperia in Oscoda County were returning home after being forced to run Sunday night when high water threatened the Hesperia Dam just north of Reed City.

State Police said that dam was safe Monday with the water dropping rapidly.

Although Hesperia was a virtual ghost town overnight, troopers said there were no reports of looting. A variety of law enforcement agencies kept cruisers patrolling the threatened town until the residents could return.

In Newaygo County, deputies reported 27 calls Monday regarding flooded roads. One highway along the Little Muskegon River was surrounded by the floodwaters and had to be closed by boat.

An aerial survey showed heavy downed trees being swept downstream along the Muskegon and Little Muskegon Rivers. Deputies said efforts were being made to remove the debris before it could hit any of the dams downstream.

Labor Day Fun Marred By Weather

Three Oaks Bike Routes Safe, Scenic

THREE OAKS — Completion of six bicycle paths, all which originate here, guarantee cyclists and nature lovers a close look at southwestern Michigan's full splendor.

Backroads Bikeway is a project of the Three Oaks Spokes, a 30-member cycling club that has spent most of the winter and summer, and $1,500, in planning the bike routes and paying for and erecting some 65 metal markers.

Bryan Volstorf, Spokes president, said the bike routes vary from 17 to 90 miles in distance, and all are over asphalted or paved, low traffic volume, secondary roads.

The paths lead over streams, through rolling hills, farmland and state parks and forests.

The club has available a brochure that describes in detail the routes of the six bike trails.

Volstorf, 30, a building services supervisor with Clark Equipment company in Buchanan, said he and club members planned the trails last winter and had the 65 road and path markers in by July 4.

They financed the road signs, and the brochure, by selling advertising in the brochure the group hands out. The Berrien county road commission rejected a seventh proposed bike trail by saying daily traffic volume was too high.

The remainder of the trails all have a traffic volume of fewer than 2,000 vehicles daily, Volstorf said.

The club's biggest problem now, he said, is replacing signs vandals tear down or damage. Eight signs, with a value of about $80, have been pulled out, Volstorf said.

The bike paths criss-cross but all have their starting points at the stop light at US-12 in Three Oaks. A detailed description of the bike trails is available by writing to "Three Oaks Spokes, 305 East Michigan street, Three Oaks, 49128."

Recession 'Hidden Costs' Reported

By C.G. MEDANIEL
AP Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — More mental illness, more physical illness and more crime grow out of economic recession, says a group of social scientists.

And they said the cost of these consequences is greater than would be the cost of programs to create jobs.

Government officials look only at the direct economic impact of unemployment, they told the annual convention of the American Psychological Association on Labor Day.

They said that not only do slums, robberies and burglaries rise, but so do the rates of suicide, murder of infants, admission to mental hospitals and illness and death from heart and other diseases.

There frequently is a lag of one, two or three years in some of these rates, but already the impact of unemployment is apparent in some of these areas, they added.

Dr. Hannah Levin, professor of psychology at Richmond College City University of New York, Staten Island, and Dr. Ralph A. Strass, of New York University, a political scientist, studied 46 unemployed men and their families in Brooklyn and Queens Island.

"A most tragic part of each interview," Dr. Levin said, "was that 90 per cent of the men blamed the recession for being unemployed and they felt despair about their future."

She said the children, too, felt the stress of their father's unemployment and expressed the fear they might have to be given away.

She said, "Physicians prescribe milk and vitamins for children who suffer malnutrition," so "it is time psychiatrists and psychologists include the prescription of work as a way to a more meaningful and satisfying life."

"And just as the government has begun to assume some responsibility for feeding the poor with food stamps, it must become national policy to provide full employment for all our citizens who wish to work."

There frequently is a lag of one, two or three years in some of these rates, but already the impact of unemployment is apparent in some of these areas, they added.

Dr. Hannah Levin, professor of psychology at Richmond College City University of New York, Staten Island, and Dr. Ralph A. Strass, of New York University, a political scientist, studied 46 unemployed men and their families in Brooklyn and Queens Island.

"A most tragic part of each interview," Dr. Levin said, "was that 90 per cent of the men blamed the recession for being unemployed and they felt despair about their future."

She said the children, too, felt the stress of their father's unemployment and expressed the fear they might have to be given away.

Low Apple Prices Predicted

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

A bumper crop of apples is ripening in orchards across the nation and the large supplies should mean lower retail prices for the fruit through the coming year.

The Agricultural Marketing Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture predicted that this year's apple crop will be almost 174 million 42-pound boxes, an increase of 13 per cent over last year.

While bad weather has threatened harvests of other crops, from corn to onions, the apple growers have been lucky.

"This year it just seems everyone had good weather," a USDA spokesman said.

Authorities in the state of Washington, the country's top producer, expect a fresh apple crop 19 per cent larger than last year's; growers in New York State, the second largest producer, say they should harvest their biggest crop in half a century.

Jarvis Garlik, assistant commissioner of the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets, said more of the 1975 crop than usual would probably be sold for eating fresh, because many of the big apple processors have supplies left from last year.

"The price of apples for the consumer is going down some and the quality is going in be up," Garlik said.

The Washington State Apple Commission said the average price of a bushel of apples (equal to 42 pounds) was $7.30 at the wholesale level for fruit from the 1974-75 crop. They expect the average wholesale price for the 1975-76 crop to be about $6 a bushel, a drop of 20 per cent.

GRAND JURY SUBPOENAS 70 Hoffa Probe Opens Today

DETROIT (AP) — A federal grand jury launches a probe today into the disappearance of ex-Teamsters union boss Jimmy Hoffa. U.S. Atty. Ralph Guy said he hopes to unravel the mystery by taking testimony from more than 70 subpoenaed witnesses.

Guy said the grand jury's work initially will be to investigate rather than to collect evidence for indictments.

Meanwhile, the FBI will attempt to maintain custody of an auto which agents believe may hold a clue to Hoffa's July 30 disappearance. The car belongs to Joseph Giacalone, son of reputed Mafia figure Anthony "Tony Jack" Giacalone.

A hearing on the car controversy is scheduled before U.S. District Judge Robert DeMarco.

The auto was being driven by Hoffa's foster son, Charles L. "Chuckie" O'Brien, on the day Hoffa vanished.

O'Brien is scheduled to testify Wednesday before the grand jury.

Hoffa dropped from sight after leaving for a luncheon appointment at which he told his family he was to meet with the elder Giacalone at the Red Fox Restaurant in suburban Bloomfield Township.

Giacalone, however, denied that he planned to meet Hoffa.

O'Brien said that, by coincidence, he was driving young Giacalone's car in the vicinity of the restaurant on the day Hoffa was last seen.

Officials familiar with the probe confirmed last week that three tracking dogs detected Hoffa's scent in the back seat and trunk.

But O'Brien said it was "judicious" to suggest Hoffa was in the car with him the day Hoffa disappeared. O'Brien said he borrowed Giacalone's auto to deliver a fish to a Teamsters Union vice president in a Detroit suburb.

The FBI seized the car Aug. 8. Giacalone, 22, contended the car is being held illegally because a statement sworn to by federal agents justifying seizure of the auto is "insufficient" to show probable cause that any federal crime was committed.

An affidavit filed in federal court in connection with the FBI's request for a search warrant said the FBI felt there was probable cause to believe that "Charles has used Joseph Giacalone's automobile to facilitate an abduction of Hoffa."

O'Brien's attorney, James Bardick, said the agent picked up by the dog could have been clothing left by Hoffa in the car long before he disappeared, since Hoffa was a longtime associate of the Giacalone.

Guy and Robert Orr, who heads the Federal Organized Crime Strike Force in Detroit, refused to say who else in addition to O'Brien is being called to testify before the grand jury.

Funeral services for Hoffa, another victim, were scheduled today. The last Thursday at 8:30 in a Plymouth funeral home. Friends of the Hoffa family said she was never told her son had disappeared, although she called for him every day.

Socialists Field Ex-Mayor As Top Candidate

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Socialist Party USA has chosen former Milwaukee Mayor Frank P. Zeidler as its 1974 presidential nominee under a banner inherited from Eugene Debs and Norman Thomas.

The party, which nominated Zeidler during its national convention Monday, calls itself the legitimate heir of the Socialist party, which has not fielded a White House candidate since 1936.

Zeidler, 62, is chairman of the party which he helped reorganize a few years ago. Delegates nominated Quinn Brisben, 41, a Chicago teacher, as his vice presidential running mate.

The group wants to get on ballots in as many states as possible and seek write-in votes in the rest, Zeidler said.

"The party has put up candidates on a provisional basis in the hope that other groups around the country similar to us can coalesce into a major force," he said.

Brisben said, "We think that by putting candidates in the field this time, we can promote our ideas more effectively."

Zeidler, a self-employed public administration consultant, was mayor from 1948 to 1960. He said the party has about 200 members, about 80 of whom attended the three-day convention.

Thomas, who died in 1968, ran for president six times between 1928 and 1948. Debs, a union leader, ran five times, starting in 1900. Darlington Hoopes, a Pennsylvania legislator, was the party's last presidential nominee, making the second of two races in 1956.

FRANK P. ZEIDLER

Thomas' best showing was in 1932 when he received more than 2,000,000 votes. He got only 85,000 in his final campaign as factionalism deteriorated the party's strength.

Zeidler foresees "a front-porch campaign in its modern version, which is using the media of communication rather than to travel a lot. I am not a man of independent means."

He said the reorganized party's goals include improving harmony among ethnic groups, controlling the allocation of energy and giving workers more voice in industrial decision-making.

"One of our tasks is to reclaim our name," he said. "The original meaning of socialist is a democratic society where people work together as contrasted with individualism."

"The name has been seized by a lot of different groups that have almost destroyed its usefulness," he said.

In St. Louis on Sunday, the People's party nominated Margaret Wright, 52, a civil rights activist from Los Angeles, as its presidential candidate and Maggie Kuhn, 70, of Philadelphia as her running mate.

Supporters Of Goncalves Purged

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Anti-Communist military commanders, determined to block the appointment of Gen. Vasco Goncalves as chief of staff, have begun a purge of Goncalves supporters from the ruling Armed Forces Movement, military sources reported today.

President Francisco de Costa Gomes convened the 240-member assembly of the movement to a crucial meeting Friday to review Goncalves' appointment and revise Portugal's troubled power structure.

The assembly is packed with a large majority of Goncalves appointees, while his opponents claim to have the backing of more than 80 per cent of the

Army delegates who elect half the assembly membership met in Tancos north of Lisbon today under the presidency of army chief of staff Carlos Fialao, one of Goncalves' opponents.

Army officers reported stormy scenes at the meeting as Fialao maneuvered to eliminate Goncalves supporters from the army's 130-man assembly delegation.

The first to complete the purge was air force commander Gen. Jose Morais da Silva who declared his open defiance of Goncalves on Monday. The air force was due to pick its 60-man assembly delegation at a meeting today, but the pro-Communist newspaper O Seculo complained that "almost all the progressive officers and non-commissioned officers" have already been told they were excluded.

The purge in the army and air force threatened to "paralyze the revolutionary process," O Seculo declared.

Not Much Hope For Strike Bill

By JIM ADAMS

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Supporters of legislation to allow strikes by government workers say they don't expect congressional approval for years because of public unhappiness with walkouts by police, garbage men and teachers.

Chairman Charles H. Wilson, D-Calif., says he is not optimistic his House postal subcommittee's right-to-strike bill for postal workers will get out of the full Post Office Committee this year.

Chairman Frank Thompson, D-N.J., said his House labor subcommittee will hold public hearings on bills to give state and local government employees the right to strike — but he made no promises even of subcommittee approval.

Wilson said public employee strikes like the police and firemen walkout in San Francisco this summer have aroused public opposition to right-to-strike bills that most congressmen are unwilling to back.

"It would take a very brave soul to vote for this," Wilson said.

Both Wilson and Thompson contend that a national right-to-strike law would reduce the number of government worker strikes rather than increase them, and predict Congress eventually will enact such law.

Thompson said present wildcat strikes by government workers would be outlawed by a bill that would bring their unions under the National Labor Relations Act, thus giving them the same right as industrial unions to conduct sanctioned strikes.

"Rather than these hiccup-type strikes, there would be a definitive procedure they would go through," Thompson said.

Further, both Wilson and Thompson said bills before their committees would only permit government workers to strike as a last resort, requiring bargaining and mediation first.

"Very realistically I don't believe it will pass in the foreseeable future," Wilson said. "But I think it will come."

Three Injured In Sunday Crash

Three people were injured about 12:30 a.m. Sunday in a two-car collision investigated by state police from the Benton Harbor post in Napier avenue at Union street, Fairplain.

BH Troopers Say Traffic 'Lighter'

State police of the Benton Harbor post reported Labor Day weekend traffic "a little lighter than normal," adding that nighttime traffic was very sparse.

Troopers said 150 traffic tickets were written during the period from 8 p.m. Friday until midnight last night, mostly for speeding. Troopers made six arrests for driving under the influence of intoxicants, which they termed "less than normal" for a Labor Day weekend.

Over the Fourth of July three-day holiday weekend state police from Benton Harbor wrote 223 tickets with nine arrests of drinking drivers.

"good" condition at Memorial hospital was Irene Thelma Feller, 54, of Box 406, Pine Ridge road, Route 2, Benton Harbor. Troopers said she was a passenger in an auto driven by Donald H. Selters, 56, of 6151 East Empire avenue, Benton township, who was treated and released from Memorial.

Treated and released from Mercy hospital was the other driver, Taylor Napoleon Sanders, 36, of 135 North McCord street, Benton Harbor. Troopers said their initial investigation indicates that the Sanders auto was southbound on Union and struck broadside the Selters auto, which was westbound on Napier. No summonses were issued, pending further investigation, the post said.

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Officials of the Oregon State Fair have ordered an anti-abortion group to remove three human fetuses from a fairgrounds display booth.

FOREST OF MASTS: The west basin marina in St. Joseph sprouted a virtual forest of masts Sunday morning just before record number of 140 sailboats departed on second leg of annual Tri-State regatta. The boats sailed here from Chicago, went on to Michigan City on Sunday and returned to Chicago on Labor Day. The normally colorful departure of the boats Sunday was marred by fog and steady drizzle that cast wet blanket on other holiday activities throughout the area. (Staff photo)

St. Joe Man Hurt In Fall To Pier

A St. Joseph man was injured Saturday when he fell onto the North pier during what appeared to be an adventurous search for a better perch to watch sailboats arrive during the Tri-State Yacht race.

City police said Jan Robert Platts, 23, of 415 Court street, apartment 1, suffered head bruises, a compound fracture of the right wrist and possible hip injuries. He was taken to Memorial hospital by Action ambulance.

Officers were told that Platts (reported by police to be no relation to Whirlpool Corp. President John Platts) climbed a supporting pole to a catwalk, which runs above the North pier from shore to the lighthouse.

Officers were told that Platts moved along the catwalk to the lighthouse and climbed up onto another catwalk, attached to the lighthouse.

Platts suddenly slipped from the lighthouse catwalk and fell to the concrete pier below. The accident was reported at 5:07 a.m.

Police said no charges were filed, but included in their report that the catwalk is government property, owned by the U.S. Coast Guard, and is not for public use. There are no steps leading up to the catwalk, police reported.

Benton Woman Is Injured

A Benton township woman sustained minor injuries Sunday in a one-car accident on Lincoln avenue near Clemmings avenue, according to St. Joseph township police.

Ethel Lucille Muhlbach, 55, of 1730 Snyers drive, was treated and released from Memorial hospital, St. Joseph, after her car apparently skidded on wet pavement when she swerved to avoid a dog in the road and hit a tree. No tickets were issued in the 8:40 a.m. accident, police indicated.

Milliken Seeks Million Jobs

SAINT IGNACE, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken had a word of consolation: Labor Day for Michigan's unemployed as he ordered a crash program to provide a million new jobs by 1980.

The governor issued his Labor Day statement to newsmen following his annual trek across the Mackinac Bridge along with 20,000 other walkers.

"This annual Mackinac Bridge walk is held on the day we set aside each year to honor the working men and women who built our state and nation," Milliken said.

"This year especially, our working men and women need all the encouragement we can give. In the past trying year, we have won three extensions of unemployment compensation benefits from Washington and here in Michigan we have increased benefits by 25 percent, the largest increase in state history."

"But to be out of work is disheartening and to be unable to provide for your family is a demoralizing experience. One that our Michigan workers should not have to experience."

Milliken said studies show that by 1980, Michigan needs to generate 1.1 million new jobs.

The governor said he has ordered the state Department of Labor to conduct a crash program "to determine just what must be done to generate the jobs we need."

Milliken pointed out that he recently signed into law a new single business tax which he said will create a tax climate that will keep industry in Michigan, encourage industrial expansion in Michigan and attract new business to Michigan.

"Hopefully," he said, "the combination of an upsurge in the economy and our innovative programs will make the state's Labor Day a time of real celebration."

Alaska Air Crash To Be Probed

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Federal and Alaskan officials are probing the cause of the crash of a Wren plane on Week St. Lawrence Island that took the lives of 10 persons.

Twenty-two others were injured Saturday when the twin-engine airliner slammed into the side of a hill just east of the tiny Eskimo village of Gambell, on the northwest tip of the Barrow Sea Island.

A National Transportation Safety Board team flew to Alaska on Sunday from Washington, D.C., to join Wren officials in the investigation.

Twenty of the injured, including three listed in critical condition, were flown here for hospitalization.

Bicentennial Musical Salutes Commune

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (AP) — There's a dark corner of Wallingford history that some townspeople don't like to talk about, much less celebrate in an official bicentennial musical comedy.

But it appears the show will go on, despite criticisms that a 18th Century tree-love commune is not a fitting subject for a bicentennial play.

"From what I've heard, it sounds kind of neat," said the Rev. Michael Jackson, associate pastor of the First Congregational Church, which 200 years ago excommunicated a respected member, farmer Henry Allen, for embracing the commune.

"There will always be people who will apply their moral and literary standards to any dramatic presentation, but I have no problem with that. I think I'd enjoy it," Jackson said.

The play, written by 19-year-old college student James Beloff of Meriden, portrays the church's opposition to the Wallingford Community, a branch of the Oneida, N.Y., commune. What so shocked the church and the town was the commune's rejection of the conventional husband-wife relationship. Instead, members were part of a "complex" marriage in which members could make love to others in the group. They also believed in breeding the "best" males with the "best" females.

Sexual conduct of this sort is still light years ahead of Wallingford's population. In 1975, but most residents appear ready at least to see a play that goes beyond George Washington and the Stars and Stripes. The play will be presented Sept. 12-14.

The couple now living in the only remaining farmhouse inhabited by the commune believes in the traditional marriage but also is excited about the play.

"History is made up of all kinds of different events and happenings, which all should be explored and looked at," said Mrs. Robert Avery. "If people are mature and open minded, it won't offend anyone."

Bicentennial Commission Chairman Robert Billings, himself a Congregationalist, says the Oneida deserves recognition as one of the few high points in Wallingford's past.

"To my mind, it was one of the few interesting things to ever happen in Wallingford. This is an ordinary town, let's face it," Billings said.

So far the majority of the commission supports the play, for which it paid Beloff $1,500 to produce. The commission defeated by one vote an attempt to change the name of the play from "Wallingford U.S.A." which implied it represented the town's history.

Beloff, who later changed the name to "Two Sides of Heaven," appeared before the commission to "sing" several songs from it, including, "I hear a Sin-phony."

The church's tie-in to the play has irked some citizens, who take exception to a congregation singing, "We've got a week's worth of sinners to wash out of the linen."

"I don't think this is a suitable thing for the Wallingford bicentennial commission to put on," said Charles Clute, a commission member and former president of the local historical society. He said that in 1851, when the church threw out farmer Allen, it found he favored "what among the civilized and Christian portion of the world are generally regarded as a debauchery, licentiousness and incest."

Mrs. Janet Fabian Young told the commission: "In 200 years of Wallingford history, it would seem that we could find something to sing about other than the conduct which at that time was regarded as adulterous by the majority of Wallingford citizens. I believe such a social order would continue to be frowned on today."

At its peak, the commune had 80 members in 1876 and sustained itself through a printing business and light manufacturing. It was considered industrious but none-the-less heretical.

Frost Is More Than Friendly Talk Show Host

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — When David Frost announced he had acquired rights to the television "memoirs" of Richard M. Nixon, most Americans thought of Frost as the cheery host of a TV talk show.

There is more to him than that. Besides being one of the world's best-known conversationalists, David Frost is an international entrepreneur. His projects include a $5.5-million musical movie of "Cinderella" and a television series to America's bicentennial.

Returning here briefly for the first time since the Nixon trial, Frost passed between meetings to discuss his multi-media enterprises, including the one that has created all the

"The reaction has really astonished me," said Frost, an affable, sandy-haired man of

Not merely in the press. People on planes and in hotel lobbies have spoken to me about how glad they are that this thing is going to happen. They are as excited as if the show had been on television right before."

The response abroad has been favorable, he said. Only in the United States has there been controversy (he announces it on-TV-very).

Commentators have questioned the propriety of the former president's selling his recollections when he had been less than candid with the American people. Others suggested Frost was too lightweight for the task of probing Nixon.

"I think it is important to understand what a television memoir is," Frost countered. "The preparation and the taping will be damned hard work, but he deserves to be paid for that effort."

How much? Frost declined to affirm the much-printed $50,000 figure — "the whole deal is based on confidentiality."

He sees no comparison with the CBS-paid interview of H.R. Haldeman, which was attacked as "checkbook journalism."

Haldeman, said Frost, was still "bang in the middle" of the Watergate trial while Nixon still had two years to reflect and retrospect.

Nixon is now a private citizen, and a man's life is his own property," Frost argued. "What he did or did not do two or three years ago is irrelevant. That is history, and he should be able to share it in the way that he sees fit."

As for his own credentials as an interviewer, Frost said, "I am very happy to let the record speak for itself."

Included in the record are two examples for his American talk show. His interview subjects have included not only show biz types but political figures such as Golda Meir, King Hussein, Harold Wilson, Edward Heath and all of the 1968 presidential candidates, including Robert F. Kennedy, George C. Wallace, Harold E. Stassen — and Richard M. Nixon.

"In England I have conducted interviews of the most pressing, probing kind," said Frost.

"I did three hours with Ian Smith, the premier of Rhodesia, and it meant having to know as much about the conditions in Rhodesia as he knew."

Frost said he had received "enormous interest" from foreign television networks and has made verbal deals which he hopes to conclude and announce soon.

He still believes there is a chance for a U.S. network deal, but he is waiting on negotiations — "time is on my side."

Among Frost's other activities: 1. A two-hour movie for NBC television, "James Michener's Dynasty." Frost approached the author two years ago about creating an American epic along the lines of "The Forsyte Saga." Michener produced a 100-page "Bible" about a southern Ohio family from 1830 to 1970. NBC will present "Dynasty" this season with the option of more feature films, a series or miniseries.

2. "The Story of Cinderella," a movie musical with songs by Richard and Robert Sherman ("Mary Poppins") with Richard Chamberlain and an English cast — "The most expensive film made in England this year."

3. "Leadbelly," the story of the legendary folk singer produced for Paramount and directed by Gordon Parks ("Shaft").

4. "We British," 13 weeks of interviews on "the state of the British people" for BBC, starting this month.

5. Sun Dial, a new publishing house in England which will issue 12 books this fall.

Holiday Weekend Is Busy Time For Area Police

Two shootings and a stabbing marked the three-day Labor day holiday weekend in the Twin Cities area. One of the shootings left a South Haven man seriously wounded. There were no violent deaths reported, area police said.

A South Haven man who suffered gunshot wounds during a reported quarrel in Benton Harbor early Monday, was listed in "serious" condition at Mercy hospital.

Police identified the victim as Charles Blunt, 24, Route 1, South Haven, who was wounded in the back and right arm.

Blunt told officers he quarreled with another man while visiting at a house on McAllister avenue, and was shot after getting into his auto to leave.

No arrest was made, pending further investigation, officers said. Witnesses told police a man fired several shots through an open car window. Police said Blunt drove himself to the hospital after the shooting, about 3 a.m.

Benton Harbor police reported a shooting at a camp near Bridgman and reported that the victim, Helmut Wilkowski, 17, of Milwaukee, Wis., was treated for a small stomach wound at St. Joseph Memorial hospital and released.

The weapon used appeared to be a pellet gun fired from a distance of about 40 feet, deputies reported.

Wilkowski told officers he was shot as he left a restroom and began walking to his cabin at Bethel Park camp on California road. Wilkowski said he did not see who fired the shot. No motive for the shooting was learned, deputies said.

Cynthia Jordan, 14, of 547 Pearl street, Benton Harbor, was treated and released from Mercy hospital after being stabbed during a reported fight with another girl on Summit street, about 11:30 p.m. Sunday, according to city police.

Police said Cynthia received a one-inch cut on the back of the head. The matter remains under investigation, police said.

A man arrested by Benton Harbor police for fighting Monday was booked on two other charges after he allegedly tried to resist arrest. A city patrol car was damaged as the man was being taken to the Berrien county jail.

Booked at the jail on charges of disorderly person (fighting), resisting arrest and malicious destruction of police property was James H. McClinton, 30, no address given.

Police said McClinton was observed fighting in the 900 block of Union street with a woman police identified as Clairen Seeley, 37, of 948 Union. She was booked on a fighting charge and released on $100 bond.

Police reported that McClinton struggled with officers and broke free, running for about 50 feet before being caught again and placed in a squad car. There was no indication as to what damage the car sustained.

Three incidents of purse snatchings were reported to Twin Cities area police Monday — two in Benton Harbor police, the third to state police of the Benton Harbor post.

Benton Harbor city police said Dorothy Silcox, 566 Colfax avenue, reported she received a bruised arm after being thrown to the ground when her purse, containing $4 in cash, was taken by two men on Brittain avenue near Colfax about 8:15 p.m.

Eather Peters, 1923 Union street, told city police her purse was taken while she was washing clothes at the Wash-bowl, Colfax avenue and May street, about 8:15 p.m.

She was treated at Mercy hospital after fainting following the incident. She was able to tell police that her purse contained no money, but she could not describe the thief.

Johanna Raeder, 7736 Red Arrow highway, Benton township, told state troopers her purse was grabbed by a man as she walked to her car in the parking lot of Family Foods, 1804 South M-139, Benton township, about 4 p.m.

She reported her purse contained $22 in cash, a pair of eyeglasses and personal papers. Police located the purse about 7 p.m. in Benton Harbor, minus the cash and glasses. A man reported his children found it in front of their house on Hurd avenue.

A state police tracking dog was led through Calvin Britain school at 300 East Britain avenue, Benton Harbor, after city Patrolman Kenneth Webster discovered a broken window and a tennis shoe print on the ledge of the ground floor window, about 12:45 a.m. Sunday.

Webster said no one was found inside the building, opened for officers by a school official. Nothing was immediately determined to be missing, Webster said.

Webster found the broken window while on routine patrol and summoned Trooper Charles Logenbarger and his tracking dog.

A six by seven foot display window was broken early Monday at Patton Brothers appliances, 200 East Empires avenue, Benton Harbor, but nothing appeared to have been stolen, according to city police. Two bricks were used to break the window, officers said.

Three thefts were reported to Benton township police over the weekend, including:

—A tape player and 13 tapes, valued at about $120, from a car parked at the home of Don Bauman, 2300 Territorial road.

—Cash, totaling $85, from the home of Arnold Nimtz, 6964 Hollywood road, Berrien Springs.

Thfts reported to Berrien sheriff's deputies:

—A seamless cutter, valued at $4,800, and ladders and miscellaneous tools, all valued at $275, from a van owned by Garret A. Woodson, 204 Berry street, Berrien Springs, parked on US 31-33, Royalton township.

—Cash, totaling $85, a pocket radio, two knives and a wristwatch, from the home of Arnold Nimtz, 6964 Hollywood road, Berrien Springs.

Benton Harbor police investigated two thefts over the weekend including an undetermined amount of liquor, beer and wine, taken from the Park-Mac tavern, 444 South Fair avenue. Roy Poyman, 263 Willow drive, Berrien Springs, told city police a tape player, valued at $100, was stolen from his van while it was parked in the 600 block of Highland avenue.

A Berrien Springs area man, John Quinn, 68, Hinchman road, told Benton Harbor police Sunday afternoon that his wallet, containing $104, was stolen by two men who attached him near the old depot site on Hinchman street. Police said Quinn was unharmed.

Ella Rena Jones of 951 Pasadena, Benton Harbor, told city police Saturday afternoon that her year-old black female Poodle, valued at $100, was stolen from her fenced-in back yard. The pet, officers were told, is named, "Beautiful Lady Jones."

LEARNING: Le Pham Phi-Nga, 5-year-old Vietnamese refugee, known last week as she began kindergarten in Riverview, Fla. Preferring to be called "Joanna," she found she didn't need to know English to communicate with classmates. "She watches, listens, then tries to learn," says her teacher, who admits it's a learning experience for her too. (AP Wirephoto)

Statement Suppressed

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — FBI and Dallas police officials suppressed for at least five months a statement which quoted an FBI agent as saying Lee Harvey Oswald was capable of assassinating President John F. Kennedy. The Houston Chronicle says.

The newspaper in a copyright story in Monday's editions said Dallas Police Chief Jesse Curry finally revealed the existence of the statement and the alleged coverup in a registered letter to Supreme Court Chief Justice Earl Warren on May 28, 1964.

EXPENSIVE HUNT FINDLEY, Ohio (AP) — Finding and developing the new oil needed by American consumers by 1985 will cost more than $400 billion, according to Marathon Oil Co.

Dowagiac And Decatur Have New Doctors

DOWAGIAC — Through the efforts of Lee Memorial hospital here, two new doctors have recently set up practices in Dowagiac and Decatur.

Dr. Eric W. Lauter, a general surgeon, is now associated with the medical office of Dr. Kenneth C. Pierce, High street, Dowagiac, in the general practice of medicine and surgery. He has been appointed to the active medical staff at Lee Memorial.

Dr. Robert S. Hedges has begun practice at the Decatur Satellite clinic, 318 West Delaware, Decatur. Dr. Hedges has also been appointed to Lee Memorial's active medical staff, with privileges in general medicine, minor surgery, and obstetrics.

Dr. Lauter came to Dowagiac from Detroit, where he was attending surgeon at Metropolitan hospital, and clinical assistant professor of surgery at Wayne State university.

Born in Elbing, Germany, in 1925, Dr. Lauter came to America in 1948, settling with his family in Toledo, Ohio. He served in the U.S. Marines in 1943-45. After the war, Dr. Lauter attended Oberlin college, University of Michigan, and the University of Chicago where he earned his bachelor's and M.D. degrees, the latter in 1951. His internship was served at Chicago Memorial hospital in 1951-52.

Following his internship, Dr. Lauter served as resident surgeon at the Veteran's Administration hospital, Pittsburgh, Pa., 1952-57, as chief, surgical service, at the VA hospital, Altoona, Pa., 1957-60, and as attending surgeon, Metropolitan hospital, Detroit, 1960-73.

Dr. Lauter and his wife Ida and son David live at 511 North Green street, Dowagiac. The couple also has a married daughter.

Dr. Hedges, a graduate of Rutgers university, New Brunswick, N.J., with a degree in psychology, obtained his medical education at the College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery, Des Moines, Iowa, graduating in 1974. During his senior year, he served a two-month community medicine rotation at the Comstock Memorial Family Health center, Dowagiac. His one-year hospital internship was served at Memorial Osteopathic hospital, York, Pa.

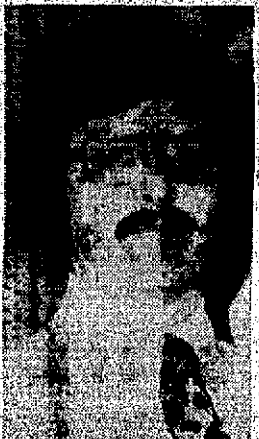

He and his wife, Jeanette, a registered nurse, reside at route 2, Decatur.

Hedges came to southwestern Michigan through the efforts of the hospital and a government agency, the National Health Service corps.

The service corps, a division of the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare, works to provide doctors to areas with a scarcity of medical care, a hospital spokesman said.

Ammunition Is Missing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Pentagon study says enough weapons, ammunition and explosives disappeared from U.S. military bases around the world between 1971 and 1974 to outfit approximately 8,000 men. The report also raised the possibility that the outlawed Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army and other terrorist groups may have received some of the stolen materials. The report, conducted by the Army Physical Security Review Board and released Monday by Rep. Lee Aspin, D-Wis., said approximately 6,000 weapons and 1.2 million rounds of smallarms ammunition or explosives were lost.

HARTFORD — Carmen Reyes of Keeler was crowned Miss Spanish-American Queen here Saturday night during pageant ceremonies a part of the third annual Spanish-American fiesta.

CARMEN REYES

She was chosen from among a field of eight contestants during the Pageant attended by an estimated 625 people. The fiesta was held in the main building at the Van Buren county youth fairgrounds.

The fiesta was sponsored by the Kalamazoo Catholic diocese. Carmen will represent Van Buren county in a fiesta pageant in Kalamazoo in October.

The new queen is 20 years old, 5-foot-2 and has brown eyes and dark brown hair.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gonzalo Reyes, route 6, Keeler. She has four brothers and three sisters.

Carmen has been employed at the Keeler day care center for the past four years.

First runner-up was Sylvia Hernandez, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Hernandez, route 3, Glenwood road, Dowagiac.

Second runner-up was Norma Mendoza, 15, a Lawton high school sophomore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cresenciano Mendoza of route 2, Lawton.

Other contestants were Mary Garcia and Janie Garcia, Lawton; Sally Tobias, Paw Paw; and Janie Zamora, Hartford.

Lawrence Votes On School Levy Monday

By ALAN AREND
Staff Writer

LAWRENCE — Lawrence school district voters will go to the polls Monday, Sept. 8, to vote on a proposed additional two-mill property tax levy for school operations for one year.

In June, district voters approved a 10-mill renewal request, but defeated a request for two additional mills by a vote of 238 to 219.

Supl. Wesley Harding said that even with approval of the two additional mills, the district's total property tax levy would still be less than last year's, since the district's debt retirement levy will be reduced 2.95 mills from 3.2 to .25-of-a-mill under the state aid debt retirement reimbursement program.

Under the program, the district will receive approximately $63,067, thus enabling it to reduce the debt levy by 2.95

Harding said that if the two additional mills are approved, the district's total tax levy would be 23.83 mills (23.58 for operation and .25 debt), compared to last year's total rate of 24.78 (21.58 for operation and 3.2 debt).

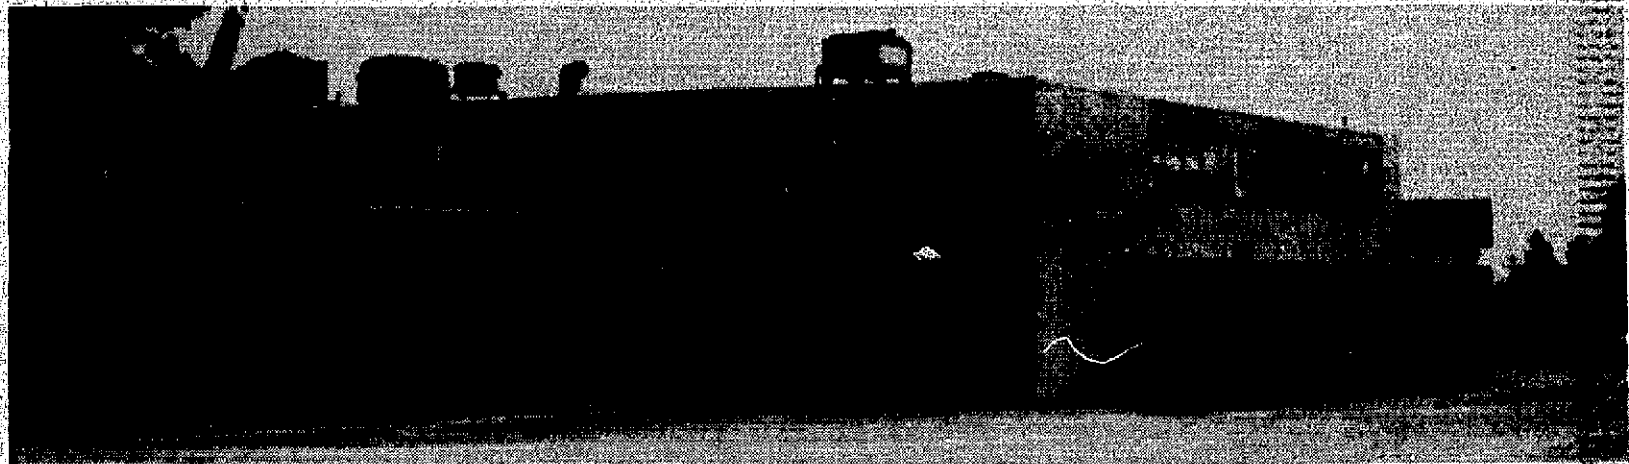

Harding said the district seeks the additional two mills to insure a solvent operation. "We're solvent," he said, "but we want to remain that way."

He said teacher contract negotiations for 1975-76 are still in progress and the state aid bill has not been signed yet.

The two mills, if approved, would produce about $24,000 minus delinquent taxes. The district's new state equalized valuation is $12,100,774, Harding said.

Harding pegged the district's operating budget for 1975-76 at around $1 million, compared to last year's $822,561.

END DAIRY PRODUCTION: Sherman Dairy company of South Haven has announced it ended milk production and sold that portion of the business to a Kalamazoo firm. Sherman will keep its present building (above) from which it will continue to produce and sell ice cream products and will also continue to deliver dairy products to be processed by the Kalamazoo firm. (Tom Renner photo)

South Haven Firm Ends 59 Years Of Milk Production

South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — The familiar name of the Sherman Dairy company on milk products purchased by South Haven area consumers will soon be only a memory.

The dairy production portion of the company has been sold to the Lockshore Farm, Maid company of Kalamazoo, ending 59 continuous years of processing milk by the South Haven company.

"It is no longer practical nor economical to continue," said Porter J. Sherman, President. He said the sale took effect Sept. 1.

Sherman said his company will continue to deliver dairy products under the Kalamazoo firm's name to retail and wholesale outlets in Allegan, Berrien and Van Buren counties.

He said his firm would also retain the ice cream producing facilities and market the products under the Sherman Dairy company label.

All milk products will be processed by Lockshore in Kalamazoo although the Sherman Dairy label will remain for a while until the current inventory of containers is exhausted.

A sale price was not disclosed.

Members of the Sherman family have been supplying milk to South Haven customers since 1906 when Ralph Sherman and his sons Rupert and Harry delivered milk from the family's eight cows before going to classes.

The business grew to 2,000 delivery stops with milk coming from as many as 30 farms.

That small business was sold in 1913, but three years later the Sherman family was back delivering milk by bicycle and horse and wagon. In 1916 the Shermans started delivering by truck.

A small milk processing plant was built on Phoenix road in 1929. The plant is still on the same site although it has un-

The company entered the ice cream manufacturing business in 1955. Ice cream sales represented more than half of the company's revenue this past year, according to Sherman.

Sherman Dairy has two retail ice cream outlets in South Haven and also supplies ice cream to stores from Grand Rapids to South Bend.

Dowagiac Nurse, 32, Found Slain

DOWAGIAC — A 32-year-old Dowagiac nurse beaten to death over the weekend may have had a pre-arranged meeting with her assailant, according to the Cass county sheriff's department.

Mrs. Lola Faye West, 804 1/2 street, Dowagiac, apparently received a telephone call and agreed to meet someone Saturday afternoon, according to Capt. Paul Parrish of the sheriff's department.

Her partially clothed body was found in a field off Gage street, about four miles northeast of here in Wayne township.

Capt. Parrish said police have several suspects but no arrests have been made at this time in connection with the murder.

Mrs. West's body was found around 10 a.m. Sunday morning by a friend of the victim, Mrs. Sara Kocis of Dowagiac, Capt. Parrish confirmed.

An autopsy performed yesterday by Dr. Bruce Maesara, Kalamazoo pathologist, showed Mrs. West died from multiple skull fractures believed to have been inflicted by an unknown blunt instrument. Dr. Charles Koudele, deputy Cass county medical examiner, estimated time of death as Saturday afternoon, probably between 3 and 5 p.m.

Mrs. West's body was found in a sitting position about 10 feet from her car which was parked on a grassy lane about 200 feet off Gage street. She was clad only in her undergarments when her body was found, Capt. Parrish said. Capt. Parrish said police are still awaiting results of autopsy tests to determine if

Mrs. West had been sexually assaulted.

An unknown male reported to Dowagiac city police that Mrs. West was missing about 9 Saturday night.

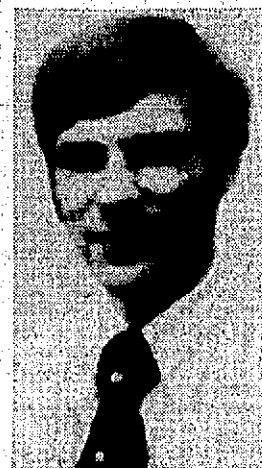

The Cass county sheriff's department is requesting anyone who saw or heard anything of an unusual nature in the area that Mrs. West's body was found Saturday afternoon, to contact the department. All information will be kept in strict confidence, according to Capt. Parrish.

Mrs. West, a licensed practical nurse, was employed by Schato nursing home of Dowagiac. She was a 1974 nursing graduate of Southwestern Michigan college and the mother of two children. Her husband, John, from whom she was separated, lives in Dowagiac.

Prayer services for Mrs. West were to be held today at 9 a.m. at Groner funeral home, Dowagiac, with burial in Clinton, Ark. Mrs. West was a native of Judsonia, Ark.

Surviving, besides her two children, Terry and Tammi, are her parents Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ganus, Clinton, Ark.; a brother, Larry Ganus of Niles, and two sisters, Kay and Rena, both of Arkansas.

Mrs. West was an active member of the Dowagiac fire department's volunteer ambulance service; a member of the fire department's auxiliary; and a member of the Calvary Bible church, Dowagiac.

Police Say A 'He' Used 'Her' License

A man who allegedly tried to pass off a woman's driver's license as his own, then reportedly offered a state trooper money to drop the matter, wound up in the Berrien county jail Saturday.

Trooper Ronald Olsen of the Benton Harbor state police post said he stopped Eugene Dorsey, 32, Chicago for speeding on I-94 in Benton township when the incident occurred.

He said Dorsey gave him a license which was issued to "Phyllis Sparks." When confronted with that, Olsen reported, Dorsey said he would leave some money on the car seat if the officer would drop the matter. Olsen said $36 was put on the seat.

Dorsey was booked on charges of attempting to bribe a police officer and disguising with intent to obstruct an officer. Police said Illinois driver's license laws on this tures on them as do Michigan licenses.

WMU MASTER'S: Miss Collette Selis, a third grade teacher at Coloma Community school, received a master's degree in elementary teaching Aug. 22 from Western Michigan university. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, of Benton Harbor.

CHILD AIDED: Billie W. Lester, 6, of 487 Paw Paw avenue, Watervliet, receives aid after being struck by auto about 4:25 p.m. Sunday, on Hagar Shore road, near Clymer road, Coloma township. Billie suffered a fractured leg and was admitted to Memorial hospital, St. Joseph. Aiding Billie are ambulance attendants, Berrien Sheriff's Deputy Tom Pace, and sheriff's

BREATH OF LIFE CAMPAIGNERS: Breath of Life campaigns are scheduled in September by more than 40 communities in Michigan to raise funds for research seeking cure or control of Cystic Fibrosis. Lung-damaging disease is incurable today, but recent medical discoveries already have given young victims longer life expectancy. Two state leaders meet here: Miss Roberta Peters (left), opera star and national chairman of Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, and Gibson Kay Brannon, national C/F poster child. How Some Folks Try For Money

By KILEY ARMSTRONG

Associated Press Writer

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP) —

Every investigation by the Insurance Crime Prevention Institute is as unusual as the case

money.

"But we do get some weird ones," says Francis Wolfe, asstant director of the insurance industry agency.

A New Jersey man was convicted in April of pulling two of his teeth, slashing his face and

pounding his head with a

car accident injuries.

He received a suspended sentence and five years' probation for insurance fraud. Last month, he was charged again with rigging accidents and mutilating his body to collect insurance.

But the institute, which does much of the investigative footwork before turning cases over to law enforcement officials, says not all of its probes end in prosecution.

For instance, there was the case of a woman who filed several accident claims as she traveled through the South in a camper. The woman told her insurers she was knocked off the toilet in hit and run accidents — "truly rear-ended," quipped Wolfe.

He said the women was not

evidence.

Q: My father and mother both have dentures. Dad eats

everything without his and says

teeth. Mother complains about

public — and says she's one of those people who will never be fitted properly.

Have you any suggestions or comments? O.W.P.

A: Some individuals do have a

denture to rest on, others have

"loose gums" that get sore

when much chewing is done.

However, even people with a poor ridge can learn how to use a denture with satisfaction and comfort. Often it is a matter of

control of the tongue and muscles of the cheeks and lips.

In such cases, time and persistence are keys to success.

If it is a matter of sore gums, several factors must be considered. First, a denture must fit the ridge well, and it must meet the lower jaw with its

this with a small piece of carbon

and, if necessary, can smooth off

dentures.

If the sore spots are because of the inside or the edges of the dentures do not fit quite exactly,

the dentist can reshape them in elaborate irritation.

Occasionally there is a question as to the general health of a patient, contributing to sore gums. Old age or even misalignment in some people may cause problems of nutrition, digestion, emotional disturbances, lack of interest in good personal care — and many other situations. For this patient, there must be cooperation between the dentist, the physician and the patient, in order to eliminate or control the

'Deep Throat' Will Remain A Secret Even In Movie

Q: Who will play "Deep Throat" in the movie "All the President's Men"? You know I mean the man who slipped those reporters the Watergate secrets? — V.B., Memphis, Tenn.

A: Nobody will portray "Deep Throat," the high government official depicted as Carl Bernstein and Bob Woodward's book. (For that matter, no one ever knows whether "Deep Throat" was male or female.) The reporters refuse to name their source even to actor-producer Robert Redford, and so "Deep Throat" will be used as in the book — unidentified.

NO BIZ LIKE SHOW BIZ QUICKIES: Frank Sinatra wants to play the Israeli tough guy in the movie thriller of the novel about Arab terrorists, "Black Sunday." Longtime producers Richard Barr and Chuck Woodward split and Barr got "custody" of Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright to court.

PEOPLE

By Robin Adams Sloan

Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf? Albee's Doris Day, that sweet thing, has taken up with Playgirl centerfold, ex-football star and actor Jim Brown. Universal is definitely considering a sequel titled "Jaws II."

QUESTION YOU NEVER ASKED: Comedienne Madeleine Kahn is the latest of the femme stars to join the ranks of the many being Svengali-ed and managed by her boyfriend. In this case his name is — wait for it — Teddy Bluffer.

Q: Was Cybill Shepherd serving making the film "Taxi Driver" without her lover, Peter Bogdanovich, there to direct her? — S.J., Ogden, Utah.

A: Actually Cybill says that it is a lot more difficult to work for a director with whom you are also living. And Cybill is not really a nervous type. She is a big, healthy girl and not afraid of a scrap. She gets along fine with director Martin Scorsese on "Taxi," but just wait until she gets her hands on some of those critics who made so much fun of her singing and dancing in "At Long Last Love." They're the ones who should be nervous.

Q: How is that Princess getting along who, for a while there, was supposed to be getting married to Richard Burton? — E.G., Cheyenne, Wyo.

A: That was Princess Elizabeth of Yugoslavia. She went back to England to forget about Richard and get her life in order. She was helped through this difficult period by British relatives, who happen to be the Royal Family. She has been seen often this summer at polo matches and in the Royal enclosure at Ascot with the Queen herself, who is understood to be making a kindly effort to re-establish the poor Princess's social standing. That ought to do it.

Q: What do you think of the current British scandal with actress Vivien Merchant suing Lady Antonia Fraser, the biographer, for taking away Viv's husband, playwright Harold Pinter? Anything juicy to add? — G.T., Vancouver, B.C.

A: We're not surprised. Lady Antonia, wed to Conservative politician Hugh Fraser for 19 years, has let her beautiful eye rove before this. Her last romance was with Robert Stephens, husband then of actress Maggie Smith. It's just that during that romantic excursion, nobody bothered to go

Alabama Prison Fight Quelled By Guns, Water

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A racially motivated prison fight was quelled when authorities doused the rebellious inmates with water hoses and fired three shotgun blasts over their heads, prison officials said. Two inmates were hospitalized and 34 others were less seriously injured after the 90-minute disturbance Monday night.

The trouble broke out shortly after 8 p.m. Monday in a cellblock housing 114 inmates at the Mount Meigs Medical and Diagnostic Center near Montgomery.

Who cares? Because you benefit, we care.

We're proud.

For the third year in a row we are America's most efficient electric utility in power generation—an achievement based upon the use of the most advanced technology available today and the burning of coal.

At American Electric Power and all our operating companies, striving for greater efficiency is a never-ending process.

On the basis of latest industry reports, we managed to squeeze more electricity out of the fuel burned than any other electric power company in the U.S.A.

And the benefits are big.

If, for example, last year we were average instead of best, we would have had to burn 3 million more tons of America's coal. An expense of over $60,000,000 our customers would have borne.

Or, looked at another way... if we had been burning oil instead of coal, America's fuel saving would have been over 12,000,000 barrels!

That's conservation... pure conservation in keeping with Federal Energy Administration goals. When anyone conserves, all America benefits.

If every American will commit to conserve through the efficient use of energy... and if our government will make a full commitment to coal, our most plentiful fuel, America will have the basic ingredients for solving our energy problem:

Coal and conservation.

Together they can blunt the inflationary effect of cartel produced foreign oil prices.

Together they can further our country's magnificent production record, which will make possible a fuller life for every American—especially the less privileged.

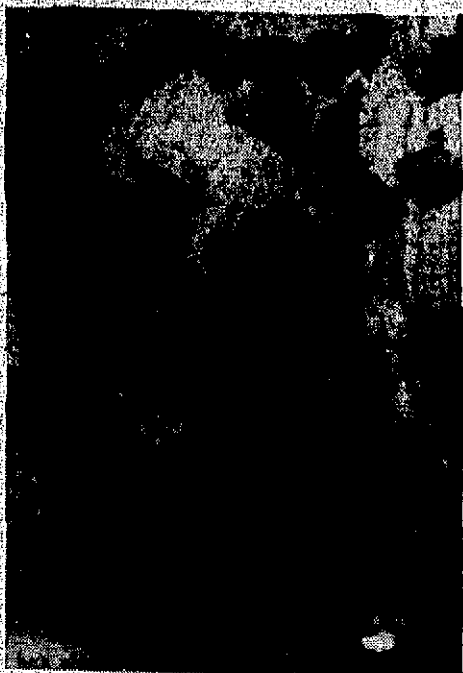

Show you care.

Join the movement to coal and conservation.

The Instant It Happened

FIRST OFFENSE

After 23 years of teasing pictures out of everyday events, this was just another parade to Bill Beall of the Washington Daily News. But the editor had a fondness for the Chinese, and the Chinese had a fondness for parades.

So when the Hip Sing Chinese Merchants' Association dedicated a new building in Washington's tiny Chinatown, they held a parade. And Beall drew the photo assignment.

It was a hot, sultry night of September 1952, and Beall, at 204 pounds and 28 years, had one main thought: "Get the picture and get back." He stood there clicking away at the great paper dragon as it went by, stealing himself against the rattle of firecrackers. Out of the corner of his eye, Beall sees the little boy step from the curb, intrigued by the floating paper dragon with people legs. But after two unsteady steps he faces no paper dragons but two long legs in blue. The policeman bends down like some vastly older brother, and says in essence, "The firecrackers will get you if you don't watch out." Beall whirled and catches the picture.

Whatever else was said, was lost in a fresh barrage of firecrackers, and the flickness of memory. All that is left is the picture. Back in the newsroom, Beall developed his film, confirmed what his eyes say through the camera sight. He told the editor: "I think I have a real one."

The picture won prizes after prize. The boy, Allen Weaver, grew up. The cop, Maurice Cullinane, became assistant chief of police. Some years after the parade, the newspaper brought cop and boy together again. But the same gentle electricity was not there; the magic of an instant was gone.

Pulitzer Prize Winner, 1968.

JOHN P. ROCHE A Word Edgewise

In his "Conversations with Stalin," Mikoyan Djilas reported that he asked the Soviet dictator why the powerful French Communist Party had not been successful in its bid for power. Stalin replied succinctly: "No Red Army." Sometimes we tend to forget that Moscow has yet to win a war of ideas. On the contrary, every Communist regime in the world rests on bayonets.

From Moscow's viewpoint, then, the situation that developed in Portugal after the overthrow of the right-wing dictatorship was analogous to that in Castro's Cuba and Allende's Chile. The Red Army could not handle the task of eliminating "fascists," and other counter-revolutionary (that is, anti-Soviet) forces. The first priority for these distant Communists was therefore to get effective control of the military forces.

While a number of fellow-travelers and innocents were screaming about the destruction of democracy in Chile, theoreticians in Moscow cold-bloodedly went to work analyzing the "Leonora of Chile." Politburo member Boris Ponomarev, who is in charge of the contemporary version of the Communist International, finally issued instructions to the Portuguese Communists in "Problems of Peace and Socialism" — the gist of his message was, first of all, get the guns.

At the same time, the KGB was pulling out all stops in its effort to establish Communist dominance over various Portuguese social organizations, notably the media and "Inter-studical," the forcefully established amalgamation of trade unions. Estimates of KGB monthly spending in Portugal vary widely, but when Secretary of State Kissinger indicated that maybe $5 million was in the ballpark the odds are that the Soviets are putting at least $7 million a month into their underground activities.

While Moscow has been instructing the Portuguese Communists on how to avoid the mistakes made in Chile and providing "aid" to C.P. front groups, there has been a growing amount of activity on our side of the hill. European Socialists, led by — of all people — Sweden's Prime Minister, Olof Palme, let fly with a blast against any possible Communist coup d'etat in Lisbon. Words have never yet stopped a coup, but this statement was supplemented by the solid refusal of the European Common Market to provide Portugal a nickel until there are substantial guarantees of a democratic regime.

Where next? The answer lies in the decisions of the military, and the danger is that — if the Communists fail — the ambitious Gen. Otelo Caryalho might set up a non-Communist, left-wing military dictatorship on the model of Peru. Democrats have no reason to relax.

MISSISSIPPI RESORT BEACH

Swimming's Foolish On 'Coliform Coast'?

By BILL CRIDER

Associated Press Writer
BLOOM, Miss. (AP) — People who go swimming in the gorm-laden waves off Mississippi's resort beach have got to be uninformed tourists or reckless optimists.

The languid surf along 26 miles of man-made beach between Biloxi and Gulfport teems with fecal coliform from sewage flowing into the Gulf of Mexico.

Mere mention of it is enough to give the tourist industry here heartburn and hiccups. But despite its ugly image, pollution apparently hasn't created other complications of health.

"A couple mouthfuls might upset your stomach but I never heard of anybody getting sick from it," said Dr. Louis Jobe, Harrison County Health Officer. "That's a strange thing — maybe we're lucky.

"It depends on the individual, how much is swallowed or gets in the eyes," he added. "Hepatitis is a remote possibility. That highway beside the beach is a lot more dangerous."

Pollution of the shallows along the beach has been building up for years, spurred by a surge in coast population that has not been matched by development of sewage facilities.

Nobody thought much about it before the Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission (AWPC) began making laboratory tests of water along the coast three years back.

The coliform count from sewage sometimes soared over 24,000 parts per 100 milliliters — the cutoff point in the AWPC test — far above the allowable maximum of 200 parts per 100 milliliters set for recreational waters. A milliliter is about a tenth of a quart.

In Jackson, Charles Chisholm, head of the AWPC, said fecal coliform does not necessarily cause illness but is a true indicator of pollution and water exceeding the coliform standard is not suitable for swimming due to health hazards.

Strangers don't always discover these facts. Tourists are a major cash crop for hotels and motels along four-lane U.S. 90, where it parallels the beach, and officials feel that signs warning against swimming would scare them away.

The sign issue was tossed around like a hot rock last year, with local officials contending that such matters were up to AWPC. The agency rejected such responsibility.

"All we are interested in is notifying local governments, making available to them the conditions," said Ralph Waters of Jackson, an AWPC official. "It is not our prerogative to eliminate recreation from that area. We are in water quality, not public health."

Dr. Jobe said the beach isn't designated as a swimming area, anyhow.

"There is nothing on the beach designating it as a swimming area, or saying that you can't swim," he said. "And there is no commercial establishment on that beach for swimming."

The road along the beach is lined with motels, restaurants and other tourist facilities. When the tourist trade fell off last year, glum innkeepers split the blame between publicity about pollution and the gasoline shortage. But the shortage must have been the main factor, Franklin Kyle, president of the South Mississippi Tourist Council, reports, business picked up this summer, with gas available.

A belated scramble to install good sewerage along the coast is underway. Waters estimated it may take 10 years and up to $150 million to complete.

Biloxi hopes to hook up some 9,000 homes and business establishments this summer to a newly completed $10 million sewer system serving a four-mile stretch between here and Gulfport.

"They have been jumping on us to get tied on," said City Engineer Walter Hagan.

A $700,000 study to shape up a regional sewage disposal plan is scheduled to be completed by next July.

SOUTHFIELD, Mich.—The Bendix Corporation has announced plans for an $8.5 million expansion of its world headquarters here. Directors of the company approved an authorization for an expansion which will include a 121,000 sq ft addition to existing facilities. The new project is an office building on Civic Center drive east of Northwestern Highway in Southfield. Groundbreaking for the project is scheduled for January, 1978, with completion expected in the summer of 1979. Bendix Chairman and President William W. Benton says the expanded facilities are needed to consolidate operations and services which are housed in the company's Executive Office building and in leased space in a nearby annex. Current employment at the two locations is 470. The new addition will include offices; an auditorium; employee recreational facilities; a lounge; a cafeteria; and a parking lot. The project is being designed by the Detroit-based firm of Skidmore, Brown, Smith Associated, Detroit; the designer of the present Bendix office building which was completed in 1960. In closing, I would like to address myself to "The Concrete Opposition". Take an hour or two of your time and drive around Boston Harbor and St. Joseph's residential areas: Get off the "main drag", and onto the side streets. Then look at the concrete roads, Boston Harbor, down Wall Street and Water Street and Territorial. Open your eyes and you will see first hand what a "Ghast Town" looks like. The concrete roads of town St. Joe is just across the border.

Finally, the "concretor" started in 1968. For 16 years St. Joe has been paying for the expended taxpayers money fighting it, but these same officials have not done anything about the building of four lanes of highway to I-94. I say, "Why not?"

COLOMA — An undetermined amount of drugs were reportedly taken in an early morning burglary at the office of a Coloma physician.

Coloma Township Sgt. Robert Cottler reported morphines, antibiotics and syringes were taken from the office of Dr. Rolando Fajardo. The office is located at the Tala Medical and Professional, center, 6572 Red Arrow highway.

Police reported the break-in occurred at 1:30 a.m. Entry was made by kicking in the southeast corner window of the building.

The break-in at Dr. Fajardo's office follows by four days a burglary of the Tala Pharmacy located at the same address.

Gas Caps Missing From St. Joe Buses

St. Joseph school officials told Berrien sheriff's deputies Saturday that gasoline cans were stolen from most of the district's 30 buses parked in the lot of the transportation garage on Glenwood road, Lincoln township.

The thefts, reported shortly before 8 a.m. Saturday, followed a report last Thursday that about 260 gallons of gasoline had been siphoned from the same buses in the lot.

Also on Friday night, Sheriff's Lt. David L. Tiefenbach reported the arrest of a 15-year-old St. Joseph boy for allegedly trying to steal gas from St. Joseph bus for his auto. Tiefenbach said he observed the boy, while patrolling the area, after the initial gasoline theft report. The boy, who was petitioned to juvenile court, was not linked to other thefts at the lot, Tiefenbach indicated.

LMC Schedules 603 Classes In 46 Areas Of Study

Some 603 college classes in 46 areas of study, including 213 in technical-occupational fields, will be offered by Lake Michigan College this fall, according to LMC officials.

The fall offerings constitute the largest number and variety of academic transfer and two-year terminal occupational courses and programs ever offered by the fully-accredited two-year college.

Registration for LMC fall classes has been going on the past summer by mail and during extensive enrollment periods for walk-in registrants.

Final fall registration at the college will take place from 2 to 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 3, and 9 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 4.

On the basis of inquiries, applications for admission, and high number of registrations during the summer, a record fall enrollment at LMC is anticipated, according to Thomas P. McCourt, registrar.

The Wednesday and Thursday registration will take place in the Student Union on the LMC Napier Avenue campus. Fall classes have been scheduled throughout the day and evenings in order to make full educational opportunities available to part-time night students as well as full-time day students, McCourt said.

Last fall the college offered 330 academic transfer and 213 technical-occupational classes. This fall, 390 academic transfer and 213 technical-occupational classes will be available.

The courses and programs are designed to provide top-quality education in a variety of liberal arts, business administration, fine arts, and pre-professional fields for students planning to transfer to four-year universities throughout the country as well as up-to-date technical and occupational terminal training in 30 practical vocational fields of immediate value for students after graduation from LMC, said Dr. Walter F. Browne, executive vice-president.

The 26 areas of study offered by the LMC Division of Technical and Occupational Studies include: appliance service technology, apparel design, automotive technology, correction, probation, parole, drafting and design technology, electronics technology, electro-mechanical studies, engineering, fire protection technology, law enforcement, management techniques, manufacturing technology, secretarial science, technical cognate studies, and trade related instruction.

Occupational studies in the field of health science include: associate degree nursing, dental assisting, medical laboratory technology, practical nursing, and radiological technology.

Areas of study to be offered this fall of special value to students planning to transfer to four-year universities include: art, biology, business administration, chemistry, drama, education, English, foreign languages (French, German, and Spanish), geography, history, journalism, mathematics, music, college orientation, philosophy, physical education, physics, physical science, political science, psychology, radio, reading, ROTC, sociology, speech, and student organization.

An additional mix of 84 academic transfer and occupational classes will be offered this fall by LMC at nine off-campus educational extension centers. Such classes will be taught at night at Allegan, Buchanan, Cassopolis, Covert, Gallien, Niles, Paw Paw, River Valley, and South Haven High schools. Registration for off-campus classes can be accomplished either during the first class sessions or on the LMC Napier Avenue campus during night school registration on the evenings of Sept. 3 and 4.

Corn, Livestock Outlook Is Bright

By JIM KEEGSTRA
Associated Press Writer
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Midwest farm economists are forecasting generally good times for corn farmers and livestock producers for the rest of the year. Wheat and bean growers are not faring as well.

For some operations, notably hog farms, the outlook extends well into 1975.

George Dike, Michigan State University professor of agricultural economics, predicts an abundance of cattle for slaughter during the next 12 to 18 months, with consumer demand kept high because of low supplies of other meats, especially pork.

Pork will remain scarce and expensive in stores, Dike says.

There are supposed to be fewer hogs slaughtered late in the year than in the third quarter, something unknown since 1942, he said. Also, the spring crop of new pigs looks like the smallest in 40 years. If hog feed prices continue at current high levels, expansion of the supply will be delayed and pork will remain scarce through 1975.

Most grain crop prices in Michigan are higher than a month ago, but may begin to drop after New Year's Day, says MSU's Henry Larzelere.

The rise to $2.74 a bushel for corn last Wednesday reflects reaction to unfavorable July weather in much of the cornbelt, Larzelere said. One Iowa economist projects an October to December price for Midwestern farmers of $2.50 to $2.60 a bushel.

Central Michigan farmers are making less money on wheat than last year. However, Larzelere said the price is not likely to drop further this fall for two reasons: limited farm selling and uncertainties in the extent of Russian needs.

Last Wednesday, wheat brought $3.40 a bushel, 37 cents less than in 1974. This winter and spring prices may fall further since total U.S. supplies appear near record amounts.

Michigan production may be 36 million bushels, one per cent above 1974.

Michigan's Navy bean crop could come out 18 per cent less than 1974 because of bad planting weather and heat at blossom time, Larzelere said. U.S. production is down 6 per cent.

But soybean crops here and nationally are up, 13 per cent over Michigan's frost-stunted 1974 harvest and 18 per cent for the United States, Larzelere said. The state harvest is estimated at 15 million bushels.

Prices last Wednesday rose to $5.38, but lower rates may be ahead. An Illinois economist looks for 1975 crop soybeans to be just a bit over $4 a bushel.

Larzelere said the highest soybean price will be ahead of harvest and it may be advisable to sell now, either for cash or on futures contracts.

Bronsonite Is Killed

BRONSON, Mich. (AP) — 35-year-old Bronson man was killed and two other Bronson residents critically injured Monday when their small plane crashed on an airstrip at the Bronson airport, according to the Branch County Sheriff's Department.

Gene D. Mosser Sr. was dead on arrival at a Battle Creek hospital. The two injured persons — 16-year-old Gene D. Mosser Jr. and 27-year-old Gene F. Forsyth — were listed in critical condition at the facility.

Authorities said the plane crashed about 10:45 a.m. Monday after taking off from a the airstrip.

The plane was a Cessna 441, according to the sheriff's department. It was carrying four people, including the pilot, Gene D. Mosser Sr., and three passengers.

The plane was seen in the air by several witnesses. It was last seen about 10:45 a.m. Monday.

Laker Passing Game Good Welch To Flood All-League Combination

Benton Harbor high may not have the only aerial circus in town this football season.

Lake Michigan Catholic has its All-Red Arrow pass-catch combination of George Welch and Tom Flood back and that in itself could spell trouble for Laker foes.

Last season, Welch (6-1, 175) was 60 out of 145 for 872 yards and seven touchdowns. He also had seven interceptions. "As a sophomore, Welch had a compound fracture of his leg," says Laker head coach Terry Rose.

"When he came out as a junior last year, we didn't know if he would run the football. We found out that he wasn't afraid to take it on his own."

"We like to help him all we can from the bench but he likes to call his own plays," says Rose. "He's good at reading defenses."

The lanky Flood (6-3, 175) helped the Lakers average almost 100 yards-per-game through the air. A broken finger suffered in practice has sidelined him but he should be ready to go by the time Catholic opens the season on Sept. 12 at Colonia.

Welch will also have senior flanker Tom Driscoll (6-4, 175), a running back last year, and senior tight end Don LeFor (6-3, 185) to throw to. "I think we're going to have one of the finest passing games around," Rose says.

On the offensive line, the Lakers have three starters returning: Junior center Kurt Weichhand (6-4, 185), senior tackle John Kasmer (6-3, 230) and senior guard Chris Kasmer (6-2, 215) will be there to provide experience on the line. Rose voices concern over his left guard and left tackle spots. Senior Dave Flood (6-4, 175), who Rose calls a speed tackle because of his quickness, has the inside line on that spot.

When running backs are mentioned to Rose, the jovial giant does nothing but smile. "We have three sets of backs that we can use and not lose any efficiency. These guys almost hate to get injured in practice because they know it's going to be a fight to get back to where they were before," Rose comments.

The leading ground gainer returning is senior fullback Kenny Halamka (6-10, 175). He

Running backs slated to see action include seniors Mickey Ashbrook (5-11, 175), Tim Butgereit (5-10, 165) and Mark Frasse (5-7, 190).

"Our offensive line has experience, size and is quick while the backs have strength and speed," says Rose.

Some of the offensive back-up people are junior end Scott Macis (5-10, 160), senior quarterback Jim Brintnall (5-11, 155) who will also play as a defensive safety and junior Collin Strubbe (5-11, 185) who can play either running back or quarterback.

Rose feels the Lakers will be very solid on defense with two linemen and three linebackers returning. Senior defensive end Bill Frantz (6-4, 190) and senior tackle Jean Parker (6-4, 190) will anchor the line. Parker played at 275 pounds last season but trimmed down to 180 for wrestling.

The linebackers returning are seniors Joe Foster (5-9, 180), Pat Clark (4-9, 175) and Jerry Epperson (6-4, 190).

In the secondary, Brintnall will play safety with Frasse and Butgereit also seeing action in the defensive backfield.

"We are going to carry 32 players on the varsity and a lot of them will see action this season," says Rose.

Catholic had 90 hopefuls out for all three teams, freshman, junior varsity and varsity.

"At the beginning of practice we were putting our defense together. Now we're working on the offense, especially on pass protection," Rose says.

The head coach sees the Red Arrow as a good, balanced conference this season. "Eau Claire and Hartford are fine teams and Galien has a lot returning on offense," indicates Rose. "And wherever Jerry Burchett (Waukegan) is, there are 20 players that will give their all."

Giles May Start New U.S. Amateur Ridley's 2 Up Win Over Fergus Upsets Vinny

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Ever since the young collegians began to dominate the amateur scene, the U.S. Golf Association has found itself caught in a crossfire between those who favor medal play over match play to determine the national championship.

With its 75th tournament now history, the USGA is faced with the prospect many national class players — including Vinny Giles of Richmond, the 1972 champion and this year's British Amateur winner — may start their own national stroke play championship.

Giles said today in an interview with the Richmond Times-Dispatch he discussed the possibility of such an event with a number of top players during the tournament which ended Sunday over the James River course of the Country Club of Virginia.

The title was won by Fred Ridley, a 23-year-old Stetson University law student from Winter Haven, Fla., with a 2-up victory in the 36-hole final over Keith Fergus, a 21-year-old two-time University of Houston All-American.

"Now, I have no reason to knock Fred Ridley. He is the man of the hour. Anybody who wins it deserves it. I want to make that very clear to everybody," said Giles.

But he added that Ridley was "close to 30 over par for the tournament. At stroke play, not only do I know 30 over doesn't win it, it doesn't even finish in the top 10."

To win the championship, Ridley had to beat two other All-Americans, Curtis Strange and Andy Bean, on his way to the finals, but Giles said, "He caught every one of them on bad days."

Of the proposed new tournament, Giles — who serves as business manager for several pro golfers — said: "There are a lot of difficulties involved, not the least of which is getting people who would be willing to run it."

"We'd have to have people in different regions to run regional qualifying, and we'd have to have a full-time guy to serve as tournament director. We'd have to find the courses for the qualifying and the tournament itself and do all the other things that a tournament of this nature would require."

Giles said, "Match play has a lot of pluses, but one of them is not to determine the national championship."

Automotive Electric Ousted At Nationals

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa — Despite a pair of solid efforts, Automotive Electric of Benton Harbor was eliminated Sunday from the National American 16-inch slow pitch softball tournament.

"The local team got past Cecil's Roundtable, the tourney's host team, 3-1, but then dropped a 6-3 decision to Big Bang Bruins of Chicago, Ill. for its second loss in the double elimination tourney."

"We just didn't get enough hits," Auto Electric coach Dan Plaugh said. "We just never broke through."

PORT HURON, Mich (AP) — A team from Staten Island, N.Y., won the National Modified Pitch Softball Tournament, eliminating a team from Babylon, N.Y., 13-1 in Sunday's championship game.

Teams from a dozen states took part in the rain-marred tournament.

A team from Livonia, Mich., placed third in the 25-team tournament field.

Cops B.C. Open For First Victory

Iverson Sweats Out Win

ENDICOTT, N.Y. (AP) — It was cool and damp, but Don Iverson was sweating.

He stood at the 18th green Monday, his first Professional Golfers' Association victory within reach. But there were two players strolling up the 18th fairway with a chance to tie Iverson and force a playoff for the $35,000 top prize in the $175,000 B.C. Open golf tournament.

Australian David Graham missed his 20-foot birdie putt and Jim Colbert, who hit his second shot into the rough right of the green, settled for a par.

Iverson, 29, of LaCrosse, Wis., had won.

He, toured the 6,815-yard, par-71 En-Jole Golf Club course in 68 for a 10-under par 274.

"At no time did I know how I stood," Iverson said after pocketing the $35,000 check. "I didn't want to look at the boards."

He admitted glancing at one midway in his round and perspiration formed on his brow. Several players were then eight under par.

"I really didn't want to look. I never won a golf tournament before, so I told myself not to worry about what someone else was doing."

Iverson collected five birdies and bogied two holes. Three of his sub-par holes came in a row, the 10th, 11th and 12th. Following a 13th hole bogey Iverson parred in and began the wait.

As Graham was about to putt at the 18th, host pro and defending champion Richie Karl moved behind Iverson.

"Richie was trying to cover my eyes when Graham was over the last putt," Iverson said.

"Heck, I wanted to look."

Colbert and Graham, who shared second place with 274s, each carded 69s. They were followed by Terry Diehl, who had a 68 for 276.

Hubert Green, the 1973 B.C. Open champion who failed to make the cut last year, was bracketed with Jerry McGee and Jim Wiechers at 277. McGee had a 68 and Green and Wiechers 67 each.

'Mean' Eau Claire Small In Numbers

Beavers Must Rebuild Backfield

EAU CLAIRE — Coach Paul Bergen has only 21 players on his varsity team this season but as he says "We may have a small nucleus to work with but we're meaner than all get out."

Attitude wise, this is the best group of players we've had at Eau Claire in a long time, continues Bergen.

The Beaver head coach's biggest job will be finding replacements for his entire backfield and two offensive guards. Included in the graduated backfield is Taylor Lanier and Paul Bailey, both 1,000 yard rushers and all-Rod Arrow performers and quarter-back Barry Westlake.

At the field general's spot, Bergen plans on alternating juniors Joe Simaz (5-10, 185) and Jeff Harner (5-11, 180) with every play. "Both can execute well but don't have a lot of experience," says Bergen. "We hope to take some of the pressure off of them by

LeFlore Ratings Slip Considerably

DETROIT (AP) — What ever happened to that super sophomore season some insiders were predicting for Detroit Tiger centerfielder Ron LeFlore?

He was going to steal maybe 60 bases, hit .300 and generally set the baseball world on fire.

Instead, LeFlore's credentials have slipped considerably and he is struggling to avoid setting a club strikeout record — although it should be noted that the 22-year-old may have less baseball experience than anyone in the major leagues.

Going into the Labor Day weekend's games the speedy leadoff man was batting .266 with only eight home runs and 24 runs batted in.

He's got plenty of power and the lack of homers is puzzling. Although leadoff hitters usually don't get a chance for big RBI production, his total could be much higher if he didn't strike out so much.

His strikeout total of 119 is just 22 behind the 141 team record set in 1961 by Jake Wood.

"It's gotta bother you," Manager Ralph Houk said. "Here's a man with great speed and if he hits the ball at all he'll hit these hits. It looked like he was getting to the point where it wouldn't happen any more."

Another disappointing thing to me is his base stealing. I think they (opposing pitchers) have suckered him out. He's only stolen four bases since the

All-Star break and been caught six times. He's not getting the jump. He's got 27 stolen bases and been thrown out 20 times. That's not good for a man with his speed. Against left-handers he has a hell of a time.

One thing about the strikeouts that Houk considers "a good point" is that LeFlore doesn't fan on any particular pitch. He'll miss anything from a fastball to changeup curve with equal grace. Houk believes that's better than if pitchers use one certain pitch to strike him out.

LeFlore has committed eight errors in center field. His fielding, though perhaps another full season away from being polished, is continually improving. In his two months with Detroit in 1974 he made 11 errors.

LeFlore has only been a professional baseball player since 1973. He was signed while at Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson where he first began playing ball. The native Detroitier only spent 14 seasons in the minors, leaping through three leagues to reach the Tigers in last order. He climbed from Class A Lakeland to Class AAA Evansville without stopping at Class AA Montgomery — and he was at Evansville only nine games before joining the Tigers.

Houk said LeFlore would probably play winter ball in Puerto Rico where he'll work on his deficiencies.

Bargain Center Loses

Bargain Center of Benton Harbor lost two of three games it played in the women's Class B fast pitch softball state finals over the weekend at Flamingo's Park.

Flint Fish King beat Port Huron 7-4 in the championship game of the tourney. Port Huron had forced the extra game by getting past Flint 4-4 earlier.

After dropping its first game Friday night, Bargain Center came back to edge Coldwater 8-7 Sunday, breaking a 7-7 tie with two runs in the seventh. Margaret Perebee picked up the victory.

The tournament hosts were eliminated by Saginaw in their next tilt, 8-4 with Carol Voss taking the loss.

Kim Duty hitting star for Bargain Center, slugging a triple, a double and a single in the win over Coldwater and adding four singles in the loss to Saginaw.

From Associated Press

The Chicago Winds, who have lost four of their five World Football League games including last Saturday's loss to Memphis, come up against another toughie Saturday — the Southern California Sun.

The Sun, meanwhile, is coming off last Friday night's 38-39 rout of Philadelphia and leads the Western Division with a 4-1 record.

Memphis, the Eastern Division leader with a 3-1 mark, stopped Chicago last Saturday as Ed Marshall caught three touchdowns passes — two from Danny White and one from John Huarte. Jim Klock added a four-yard TD run and ran for an action TD before a Memphis crowd of 21,515.

In last Saturday's other games, San Antonio belted Portland 22-0; Charlotte stopped Jacksonville 33-14 and Birmingham upended Shreveport 21-8.

John Walton passed for two touchdowns and Jim Strong and Bill Sadler each surpassed 100 yards on the ground for San

Tom Sherman hit on nine of 11 throws for 119 yards in powering visiting Charlotte, 2-2, over the Jacksonville, 2-2, with 16,428 fans on hand.

Quarterback Matthew Reed guided Birmingham, 3-2, over Shreveport, 2-3, in a game witnessed by 18,700 fans at Birmingham.

In addition to the Winds hosting Southern California next Saturday, Hawaii is at Memphis, Philadelphia visits Charlotte, Jacksonville goes to Shreveport and Birmingham is at Portland.

Bloom Wins Race

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Jeff Bloom of Kalamazoo, Mich., took the lead from favored Butch Hartman on the 84th lap and held it to win the United States Auto Club late model stock car feature at the Minnesota State Fair Monday.

Allison Captures Southern 500 Win Joins Elite Stock Car Trio As Three-Time Winner

DARLINGTON, S. C. (AP) — Bobby Allison, the heavy-footed Matador driver from Hueytown, Ala., became the fourth person in history Monday to win the Southern 500 stock car race three times.

Allison joined the elite company of Cale Yarborough and retired drivers Buck Baker and Herb Thomas in conquering the 30th annual event, which is the oldest and toughest on the Grand National circuit.

Allison held off a last-minute charge by Richard Petty, who was suffering from a bad head cold and had lost two laps after his car, driven by Dave Marcis, was involved in a four-car wreck on lap 245.

Despite his problems, Petty was about three-fourths of a lap behind Allison when the checkered flag fell in the 500-mile race which was delayed for an hour and 20 minutes by rain in addition to nine caution flags.

Dave Slaco, Jim Vandiver and Bruce Hill, leader in the point race for rookie of the year, rounded out the top five finishers in that order.

Several front running drivers were sidelined during the four-hour race in which 18 of the 40 starters finished. David Pearson, Buddy Baker, Yarborough, Darrell Waltrip, Marcis and James Hylton were among the drivers who fell out by the 400-mile mark.

Pearson, who started from the pole, dropped out on the 194th lap because of tire and steering problems; Baker, who started second, had engine problems on the 163rd lap; and Yarborough had to park his Chevrolet when his engine lost compression.

Petty called on Marcis to drive his car on lap 232 because of a severe headache brought on by his cold. But with Marcis at the wheel, the Petty machine became involved in the four-car wreck after Hylton's car crashed into the wall on the third turn.

Rookie Bruce Jacob and Waltrip, who was substituting for Benny Parsons, also were involved in a mishap. No one was seriously injured, but Hylton was examined for possible broken ribs.

Petty returned to his car, which was two laps down, when the race was restarted following the heavy rain storm. He lapped the field once and was 25 seconds behind Allison when the race ended.

Allison led twice for a total of 119 of the 367 laps over the 1.3-mile Darlington Raceway, while Petty led six times for 146 laps.

'Skins Need Running Game--Allen

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Not long after his Washington Redskins were knocked out of the playoffs last season, Coach George Allen said his No. 1 priority for 1975 would be to reestablish the running game.

"If we get our running game going, we will reach our goal of getting into the playoffs and going to the Super Bowl," he said at the time. "If not, it's going to be difficult. You can't live on the pass alone like we have the last two years."

The Redskins, who rushed for over 2,000 yards to reach the Super Bowl in 1972, gained only 1,435 yards last season and ranked 23rd in the category in the National Football League.

Until they showed a small spark of hope in an exhibition victory over the Detroit Lions last Friday night, the Redskins looked like they were still searching for a running game. And as football coaches are wont to say, "One game doesn't make a season."

First and foremost among the Redskins' running game problems is Larry Brown, the outstanding back who underwent knee surgery in the off-season and has participated in full drills only one day in the preseason.

Without Brown, the running attack -- at least until last Friday night -- is at a virtual standstill.

Duane Thomas, the moody and controversial but talented back, is no longer with the Redskins after playing out his option and being unable to come to terms on a new contract.

Unable to make the big trade in the off-season, as he has done in the past, Allen traveled a different route by selecting Mike Thomas of the University of Nevada-Las Vegas as his first choice, albeit fifth round. He also picked up free agent Ralph Nelson, who played in the World Football League last season.

Both speedsters have looked good in exhibition but Allen, never one to trust youngsters, apparently hopes for a full recovery by Brown to team with veteran blockers Moses Denson and Charlie Evans.

In addition to backs, Allen has problems with the offensive line which generally offers glib-edged pass protection but doesn't seem fast enough to consistently lead the sweeps.

Left tackle Terry Hermeling, a senior two years ago, underwent surgery twice in the off-season and is still recuperating. Trades have failed to materialize and Glenn Hyde, another WFL import, and veteran Ray Schoenke, also recuperating from surgery, have been used.

When the Redskins retired quarterback Sonny Jurgensen, who went reluctantly, Bill Kilmer emerged as the team's No. 1 field leader. At 35, Kilmer insists he's reaching his peak.

Joe Theismann, a Notre Dame

All-American who spent time in Canada before joining the Redskins last season, began the training season as No. 2 and his apparent but has faltered in the exhibition season. Journeyman Randy Johnson, who played in the WFL last season, now has moved into the backup slot behind Kilmer.

The thrust and hopes of the Redskins may be the ground attack, but, if the past is prologue, Kilmer will be flipping tons of short, swing passes to fullbacks Denson and Evans plus those short, quick slant-ins to ends Charley Taylor, Ray Jefferson, Jerry Smith and newcomers Mary Fleming or Danny Abramowicz or, as he has shown in the exhibition, the bomb to speedsters Frank Grant and Larry Jones.

Taylor needs only 52 more receptions to break the NFL's all time receivers' record of 633 career catches held by Don Maynard. He should get it.

The Redskins, who finished 10-4 last year and tied with St. Louis in the NFC East, could keep alive in the title chase again this year with only the defense, best in the NFC last year, should the offense sputter.

There is some question whether the left side of the defense can hold up with end Ron McDole at 35, linebacker Dave Robinson at 34 and Pat Fischer at 35. Allen has strong Brad Dusek ready to move in if needed for Robinson, acquired Dave Butz who played out his option with St. Louis for protection if McDole falters and Fischer plays like he could go on forever.

Injuries are the only unknown factor in the rest of the defense. The Redskins would be hurt irreparably if Chris Hanburger, defensive captain and right linebacker, was sidelined for any length of time, or cornerback Mike Bass, or tackles Bill Brundige and Diron Talbert.

Their rushing defense is solid with Harold McClinton coming into his own as a middle linebacker. So is the pass defense with All-Pro Ken Houston and Brig Owens at the safeties.

The Redskins' special teams generally rank among the best in the league. Jones, second in kickoff returns last season, has been the delight of the fans in the preseason with his breakaway threat. Kicker Mark Moseley and punter Mike Bragg are reliable. Suicide missions on coverage generally are led by Rusty Tillman and Ken Stone.

'Frisco' Pioneer In Women Sports

DETROIT (AP) -- Philomena Gianfrancesco Zale was nicknamed "Frisco" when she was the star rightfielder for the Grand Rapids Chicks in the 1940s.

The Chicks, having trouble with the pronunciation, boisterously yelled for "Frisco" during an exhibition game in Havana in 1947.

But maybe that corruption wasn't far from what some persons thought of women baseball players then. Women weren't supposed to play baseball. They were supposed to cook and sew and wash clothes.

Frisco was a pioneer nearly three decades before today's women and girls started pushing men and boys' athletics aside for equal space on the sports pages.

"In my own personal awareness I had animosity way back," said Mrs. Zale, the wife of former middleweight boxing champion Tony Zale. Both she and her husband were in Detroit from their Chicago home recently for his induction into the National Polish-American Sports Hall of Fame.

"I felt I was intelligent, and I wanted to seek out jobs, like maybe selling products like a lot of the (men) ballplayers do now," Mrs. Zale said. "I think I could have been a tremendous gal on radio."

"But I never got the chance. I don't think there was prejudice. They just suppressed us. We were alleged as tomboys."

The Chicks was one of eight teams in the All-American Girls Professional Baseball League which operated in the Midwest from 1944 through 1954. The others were South Bend (Ind.) Blue Sox, Fort Wayne (Ind.) Daisies, Kenosha (Wis.) Cornets, Racine (Wis.) Belles, Rockford (Ill.) Peaches, Peoria (Ill.) Red Wings and Muskegon (Mich.) Lassies.

There is no pro women's baseball circuit today, but several weeks ago plans were announced for the formation of the International Women's Professional Softball League by cofounders Dennis Murphy, former president of the World Hockey Association, and tennis star Billie Jean King.

The league is scheduled to begin play next May, with each team playing 128 games winding up in September.

"I could do all sports almost naturally," said Mrs. Zale, who has a penchant for fascinating, nonstop conversation. "I shoot pool, play golf."

Mrs. Zale said she always batted third, fourth or fifth for the Chicks, hitting in the 290s.

"We averaged 5,000 fans a game," she said. "We used to play at South Field. That's where President Ford played when he was a boy."

Mrs. Zale said men today should accept a woman athlete "as a person and not as a challenge" and that women should get more recognition plus "the meat and potatoes" -- that is, comparable salary, prize money and promotional endorsements to those of men athletes.

Bugs Alive Takes Rich Futurity

RUIDOSO, N.M. (AP) -- The quarterhorse owner had a premonition, a hunch.

Ralph Shebester had horses that finished second, third and fourth in the 1966 All American Futurity, the world's richest horse race and the event that is the Super Bowl, the World Series, the Stanley Cup and the Masters of quarterhorse racing.

But a couple of years ago his mare, Ralph's Lady Bug, delivered a foal that gave Shebester a hunch.

"I figured 1975 was about the time for our Bug to come alive," he said.

And the oddly named Bugs Alive in 75 turned that hunch into a reality Monday. He broke on top, quickly established his superiority and was never headed in a frustrating romp that provided Shebester with $30,000 from the total purse of the $1.65 million in the 17th running of the All American.

"They played hell trying to catch us," said veteran jockey Jerry Burgess. "The last 100 yards I just put my feet up on the dashboard and coasted home."

It was that simple. Bugs Alive in 75, now the winner of $512,106 as a juvenile, won by one-half length and completed the 440-yard sprint in 21.88 seconds, the slowest winning time since this classic was extended from 400 to 440 yards three years ago.

A filly, Chick Called Sue, was second, one-half length in front of the previously unbeaten Rocket's Magic.

Another length covered the rest of the field of nine 3-year-olds that finished in riding school precision.

Bugs Alive paid $8,400, $4 and $3. Chick Called Sue returned $3.90 and $3. Rocket's Magic, the favorite with the crowd of 15,250 that bet a state record of $654,736, paid $5.

Neither really challenged. "After we got over the hump (a little rise in the track about 200 yards from the gate) I knew we had it," said Burgess, who rode his first winner in six All America tries.

All time runners, as well as the scratched Chick's Deck, received a share of the enormous purse, however. Chick Called Sue picked up $138,000 for owner Aubrey Stokes of San Angelo, Tex., and Rocket's Magic collected $44,000 for Bill Thomas of New Iberia, La. The payouts ranged down to $27,000 to Chick's Deck, who injured a knee during the qualifications.

The purse is advertised in excess of $1 million but $234,000 was distributed in three consolation races and another $30,000 went in breeding and nomination awards, leaving $76,000 for the feature that closed the season at this modern little track in the Old West country of the Sacramento Mountains.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Authorities fear four more explosions after five blasts from derailed railroad tank cars carrying propane and liquefied petroleum sent huge fireballs into the sky and shock waves heard some 30 miles away.

Four persons were injured in the explosions Monday, and two square miles of factories, warehouses and homes were evacuated, authorities said. They said concussion shattered hundreds of windows.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Stocks Prodded Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved ahead again today, prodded by declining short term interest rates.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up about a point. Advancing issues took a 3-3 lead over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers noted a continuation of the optimism over the interest rate outlook that helped spark a broad rally in stock prices late last week.

After the close Friday, before the three-day Labor Day weekend, the government announced that yields on Treasury bills had fallen sharply at the latest regular auction.

Today's prices included Fairchild Camera, up 1/4 at 48 1/2; Huyck, up 1/4 at 13 1/2; Boeing, down 1/4 at 37 1/2; and Gulf & Western Industries, up 1/2 at 21 1/2.

On Friday the Dow Jones industrial average picked up 5.87 to 836.34, to extend its gain for the week to 30.58 points.

The Big Board's composite index added .30 to 46.20.

Chrysler Cuts Back In England

LONDON (AP) — Chrysler Corp. announced Monday that it will place 20,000 workers in its 11 plants in England and Scotland on short-time schedules for two months because of falling orders.

Chrysler, the third largest American auto producer and owner of a large percentage of British auto manufacturing, says parts orders from Iran had been cut in addition to a decline in car sales in England.

The short-time schedules will be in effect until the end of October, according to company officials.

Europe Gold In Big Drop

LONDON (AP) — Gold took another plunge on Europe's biggest bullion markets today as dealers worried over an international monetary fund decision to sell off at least one-sixth of its gold holdings.

In London, the metal was selling at $151.90 an ounce, $2.25 down from Monday's close of $154.15.

The morning fixing price, the price agreed to by the market's biggest traders, was $153.75 an ounce, down from $155 at Monday afternoon's fixing and the lowest fixing price since last Sept. 30.

In Zurich, Europe's other major bullion center, the mid-day price was $149.75 an ounce, a new 18-month low and $5.50 below Monday's close. At a lesser market in Frankfurt, the metal was trading at $151.55 an ounce, down from $154.33 at Monday's close.

One London dealer said the decline was a continuing reaction to the IMF decision reached over the weekend in Washington, as a first step to take gold out of the world's monetary system.

Gold has served as a basis for the world's major currencies. The IMF accord was a compromise that ends a long-running dispute over gold's role in monetary affairs between Western European countries and the United States.

The United States had sought to end the metal's monetary position altogether. Europeans had wanted to use their gold reserves at market-related prices.

Under the IMF accord, the fund's 100 million ounces of gold will be disposed of gradually, with one-sixth being sold off shortly at market prices and the profits going to bolster underdeveloped nations.

One bullion dealer quoted by London's Guardian newspaper said this week's sharp drop in the gold price was "wrongheaded" because the IMF agreement probably won't be ratified until January, leaving a lot of time for other developments in the market.

Other dealers said the drop was somewhat surprising because the substance of the IMF agreement had been known for some time.

BOWMALOK

FASTENERS FEATURE A UNIQUE SPRING-ACTION RIB, COLD FORMED ON THE NON-PRESSURE FLANK OF A NUMBER OF CONSECUTIVE THREADS.

• Bowmalok fasteners start easy because lead threads are not modified.

• When the special threads are engaged, their spring-like rib is compressed by the non-pressure flank of the internal thread in the mating blind hole or nut. The resulting high friction factor between pressure flanks produces great resistance to vibration or shock.

• The locking thread is cold-formed. No metal is cut away. Therefore, the fastener's tensile and shear strengths are not affected.

• Bowmalok's Endurion finish provides high corrosion resistance (120 hours of salt spray) and has a high degree of lubricity. Develops a high clamping force with much lower torque values.

It's OK To Be Invisible, But Better Keep It On TV

By JAY SHARUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — We went to see the invisible man

DAVID MCCALLUM
"The Invisible Man"

the other day. He already was fading when we met, but only because he was tired, having taken the red-eye flight from Los Angeles that morning.

Still, actor David McCallum had enough presence left to chat about his new NBC series,
"The Invisible Man," before taking his wife and their two kids off, for a Labor Day weekend vacation.

The chat was at times unsettling as the short, blonde-haired Scot discussed the technical process of portraying an invisible man everyone expects to see on their television screens this fall.

One lived in constant fear a stranger would burst in just as he was saying, "I put the hands on the other day. I picked them off the table and put them on."

No way you could escape the men with the nets if the stranger told them McCallum said. "You'd see me with the mask on, but I'd be invisible from the sternum down."

One felt that McCallum, who has a gently sardonic sense of humor, would try to demonstrate his thesis as they led him away. He seemed to get a tremendous kick discussing invisibility with a straight face.

bears little resemblance to, the title character in H.G. Wells' novel about a mad scientist who learns how to make himself invisible and sets out to rule the world.

He said, yes, he'd seen the famous 1933 movie version of "The Invisible Man," but his memory of it was hazy.

For TV, McCallum plays a good-guy scientist who learns the vanishing trick while working for a think-tank. Alas, his back-to-normal potion doesn't work and he remains a no-show.

He said the plot of his series will air next Monday, but should be viewed with the knowledge there'll be a change in direction later.

There was going to be an emphasis on the fact I desperately wanted to be visible again," said McCallum, who first achieved high visibility 11 years ago as the cousin of "The Man from U.N.C.L.E."

The desperation is in the first show, but at NBC's request, he won't be so anxious in the succeeding episodes. In fact, he'll have a lot more fun performing various feats of see-through derring-do.

He's ostensibly still looking for the cure," McCallum grinned, "but we haven't done too much looking lately."

The actor devoted considerable praise during his interview to the score composer Henry Mancini, who has cooked up for the series. But the praise wasn't that of an average listener.

Classically trained in acting, McCallum also has a classical musical background. He once studied at England's Royal Academy of Music, learning theory and harmony and all that.

He also mastered that difficult double-reed instrument called the oboe and says he probably could muddle through it even today.

Which will stand him in good English stead if he encounters grief while discussing invisibility. He can carry on with a stiff upper and lower lip.

NEARLY COMPLETED: New $25,000 addition to Dowagiac fire station is expected to be completed in about one week, according to City Manager Henry E.
Graper Jr. Peterson Building Sales, St. Joseph, is contractor for project, which is being financed by federal revenue sharing funds. (Mike McDonough

Seized Drugs Worth $82 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Customs Bureau says it seized over $82 million worth of illegal drugs during August, including a record 88 tons of marijuana worth $30.4 million. Vernon D. Acree, commissioner of customs, said in a statement Monday that a total 130,000 pounds of narcotics were confiscated during the month.
The marijuana seizures were the largest ever for one month and included a 43-ton cache discovered in the Grand Bahama Islands.
The total marijuana haul for August was up 311 per cent compared with August 1974, the bureau said.

The bureau reported heroin seizures totaled 18.61 pounds worth about $6.2 million and included a 13.4-pound heroin discovery in Miami. Other confiscations were $64.50 pounds of hashish valued at $2.6 million and 141.1 pounds of cocaine worth $34 million.
Compared with August 1974, this year's August seizure was up 302 per cent for cocaine, 205 per cent for heroin and 22.3 per cent for hashish.

Lake Waves Batter Pair From Lincoln

A Lincoln township man and his stepson were battered by heavy Lake Michigan waves last Sunday after attempting to launch a small sailboat but were not seriously injured.

Barren sheriff's marine officers reported that David Wilson, 37, and his stepson, Matt

Trescy, 12, both of 3908 Marquette Woods road, were attempting to launch a 16-foot pontoon sailboat when a wave washed them into the water about six miles south of St.
Joseph. They reported being buffeted against the seawall for about 30 minutes until neighbors pulled them and their sailboat out of the choppy waves.

Marine officers said the two received cuts and bruises, but did not require hospital treatment. The sailboat was damaged extensively, officers said.

CONQUER EVEREST

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) — A 14-member Polish women's team has conquered the world's highest unclimbed peak, Pakistan's 28,000-foot Gasherbrum 3, officials reported.

Bus routes and approximate starting times are listed below. Please ride only assigned buses and go to nearest stop to your home. For additional information call 983-7160.

For the first few days of school, it is suggested that parents of kindergarten children should pin tags on their children, with their name, the name of the street on which they live, their telephone number. This will help insure parents that the children will arrive at school and be returned safely. THIS SCHEDULE IS SUBJECT TO CHANGE DUE TO THE
